JAILED ON CHARGE OF

MURDER

FIRST TWO JURORS IN SIGHT

Seaborn H. Manning and F. D. Green Passed for Cause by Both Sides

Death Penalty Becomes Important Issue in Los Angeles McNamara Trial

HOW JURY STANDS

PASSED TEMPORARILY. F. D. GREEN, orange grower. SEABORN MANNING, rancher. CHALLENGED FOR CAUSE. T. W. ADAMS, retired real estate man. A. R. MCINTOSH, retired baker. ROBERT BAIN, carpenter. ERNEST F. DECKER, landscape gardener. EDWARD C. ROBINSON, carpenter and contractor. CHALLENGED FOR BIAS. GEORGE W. MCKEE, retired builder. OTTO A. JENSEN, farmer. E. J. SHOVE, paperhanger. FOR FURTHER QUESTIONING. H. Y. QUACKENBUSH, retired carpenter.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—The men who probably will be the first two jurors in the McNamara murder case were selected in court today. They are Seaborn H. Manning and F. D. Green. Both men, already passed for cause by the defense, were passed by the state today and indications were that Manning and Green would escape peremptory challenge.

The death penalty which the lower house of the California legislature voted to abolish this year, became a prominent issue in Judge Walter Bondwell's court today. The effort to get a jury to try James B. McNamara for the murder of Charles J. Haggerty, who was killed in the Los Angeles Times explosion and fire a year ago. The sentiment against it caused surprised comment among the easterners in the courtroom.

FOUR ARE OPPOSED. Four successive talesmen under examination by the state said with more or less emphasis that they were opposed to infliction of the death penalty. Ernest F. Decker, a landscape gardener, when questioned by the court, said flatly that he would not return a verdict of guilty in a capital crime on circumstantial evidence.

The case of T. W. Adams and A. R. McIntosh, who also opposed infliction of the death penalty on circumstantial evidence, were taken under consideration by the court, making in all five talesmen now under challenge for cause.

Seaborn H. Manning, already passed for cause by the defense, also was passed by the state, being the first talesman to pass both sides. He probably will be the first final juror, unless excused by peremptory challenge.

F. D. Green, a retired rancher, also was examined by the state and passed for cause. LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—The State challenged Talesman T. W. Adams at the opening of the McNamara murder trial today because of implied bias. The court took the challenge under consideration, making five challenges awaiting his decision. The challenge was based on Adams' opposition to the death penalty and also on what the California criminal code defines as "actual bias."

There is no section of the criminal code covering circumstantial evidence and for this reason it was necessary to construe Adams' attitude on this question as bias toward the prisoner. Adams is a Socialist and a portion of his examination was taken up in separating his theoretical political beliefs and his personal attitude toward the prisoner.

The defense, under Attorney C. S. Darrow, resisted the challenge. Darrow's examination was by way of at-

12 MEN ARE DROWNED IN MINE

Pent-Up Waters Burst a Log Partition and Workings Are Inundated

Heroic Foreman Loses Life in an Effort to Save the Miners

HIBERNIA, N. J., Oct. 20.—Twelve men were drowned here today when a shaft destroyed a partition between two shafts in the iron mines of the Wharton Steel Company and let a great quantity of water accumulate in an old shaft to flood the gallery where they were at work. All the victims are foreigners excepting Davis Slight, foreman of the gang, who lost his life trying to aid his men. The accident occurred in what was known as the New Landon shaft, where 60 men were at work. Between this shaft and the abandoned one was a partition of logs. A blast fired soon after the day shift went to work this morning weakened the barrier so that it gave way before the water in the adjoining gallery. In less than a minute the water was over the miners' heads and they were obliged to swim in the darkness toward the opening leading to a higher level. The place where they were at work was about 300 feet below the surface. Slight, the foreman, was in a position of safety when the deluge came, but he rushed into the submerged shaft to assist the drowning men and was caught there with the other victims. It will probably be some time before the bodies are recovered.

Effort Made to Oust Prof. Thos. F. Day

Rev. John Hemphill Leads Attack On Instructor at San Anselmo Seminary.

LONG BEACH, Cal., Oct. 20.—A motion for the removal of Prof. Thomas F. Day, instructor in Hebrew exegesis and higher criticism at the Presbyterian seminary at San Anselmo, at today's session of the Presbyterian Synod of California, caused considerable excitement and intense opposition on the part of his friends. The board of directors recommended that Professor Day's teachings be curtailed and many delegates to the synod, declared themselves in favor of removing him because of them. Rev. John Hemphill of Los Gatos made the formal motion for deposing Professor Day, the action being followed by a struggle on the part of his adherents to keep him in his position.

Birdman Rogers Tells Of Race With Eagle

WACO, Texas, Oct. 20.—Aviator Rodgers before his departure today told of a bloodless encounter he had with a curious minded eagle. While flying between Fort Worth and Dallas, Rodgers saw, far below him a racing bird. After driving along at express speed for a score of miles, with the bird directly beneath him a thousand feet, Rodgers observed the eagle rise and make directly for the machine. The bird continued its upward flight within a few feet of the racing aviator, then suddenly it swooped down and backed and passed out of vision. Rodgers was intensely relieved. At first he feared a collision with the big eagle. He believes it was frightened away by noise of the roaring propeller.

WACO, Tex., Oct. 20.—Aviator C. P. Rodgers, learning of the death of Eugene Ely at Macoon, Ga., yesterday, made a minute inspection of his biplane today, which probably saved him from death or serious accident, for he discovered damage that caused his departure to be deferred. The lever and rudder wires were worn so thin that the aviator doubted their lasting through today's proposed flight of 188 miles from Waco to San Antonio. He resumed his coast to coast flight at 11:15 a. m., starting for San Antonio.

Imperial Warships Retreat and One Joins the Revolutionists

HANKOW, Oct. 20.—By wireless to Kiu Kiang, 2:45 p. m., Relay by telegraph to Shanghai, 4 p. m.—Government troops retreated to Seventy-Mile creek, beyond Hankow. Revolutionists claim great victory. Chinese warships retreated down the river out of sight of the settlement, which is quiet.

Imperial Warship Joins Rebel Force

SHANGHAI, Oct. 20.—The following message from Vice-Admiral Winslow, the senior British naval officer at Hankow, sent by wireless from a British warship off Hankow, was received here this morning: "All telegraph lines to Shanghai and Peking were destroyed by fire last night for a distance of a mile beyond the settlement."

Another wireless message says that the revolutionaries at Hankow claim a great victory over the imperials. They declare that they captured the river and the railway station, after which all the Chinese warships retreated with the exception of one cruiser, which sided with the rebels.

MARTIAL LAW ENFORCED

The retreat of the imperials at Hankow is confirmed in other dispatches from Kiu-Kiang, which state that the Chinese gunboats are retreating to Kiu-Kiang. The conduct

Posses Hunt for Slav Charged With Murder

ELLSWORTH, Kans., Oct. 20.—Posses today continued to search this and adjacent counties for Charles Marzyek, wanted in connection with the murder of the five members of the Showman family. Local officers do not believe that the man arrested last night at Newkirk, Okla., is Marzyek. Photographs of the fugitive were sent to the Newkirk officials, but early today no word had been received from there as to whether the man held had been identified as the missing Slav. Many persons here now believe that Marzyek left for the south on a train several days ago. A man is being held at the county jail here who was taken into custody near the Kanopolis salt works this morning. He appears to be a tramp. Detectives and Sheriff Bradshaw questioned him at length today, but he gave them no information of any value. The suspect will probably be released.

New Torpedo Proves Worth as Destroyer

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 20.—It was reported last night that after several attempts the cruiser Montgomery yesterday afternoon fired a torpedo almost entirely through the recently constructed steel caisson that was towed to Hampton Roads several days ago to become the target in torpedo tests. The torpedo, which was fired at a distance of 500 yards along a cable, failed to reach the target on two occasions, stopping half way between the cruiser and the caisson.

COUPLE WED IN SICK-ROOM OF GROOM

Erickson Barely Able to Speak as He Takes Vows

ALAMEDA, Oct. 20.—So ill that he could not raise his head from the pillow and could speak only in barely intelligible whispers, Frederick L. Erickson, formerly a prominent railroad builder, was married last night to Mrs. Maria Wilson, the ceremony being performed at the bride's home at 10:30 o'clock by Judge R. B. Tappan. The bride, because of the inability of her husband to apply in person for the marriage license, secured the permit to wed from Deputy County Clerk M. Riley, who had been phoned to in advance and who remained at the county clerk's office after office hours to issue the certificate.

The witnesses were two Oakland friends of the couple, Mrs. Mary Duffey and D. A. Johnson. Mrs. Erickson "smiled" through her tears this morning as she hesitatingly told a few details of the wedding.

"There isn't much to say," she said. "I never thought it would interest the public, this wedding. It seemed the best thing to do. Mr. Erickson has been sick for a long time and I have cared for him. I can do so better as his wife. I formerly lived in Alameda, but moved to San Francisco. A few months ago we came back to Alameda. This is my home where we are living."

ARE OLD FRIENDS

"We have known each other for a long time. The wedding took place last night about 9 o'clock. Mr. Erickson is too ill to be out of bed."

Erickson and his brother, the late Charles Erickson, and their father before them, were railroad builders for years. They built a considerable portion of the Canadian Pacific and also built the Weed line for the Southern Pacific in Northern California and Southern Oregon, which affords rail service for the Klamath region. The two brothers had a big Southern Pacific contract at Auburn, where much new trackage is being built, but the death of one brother and the illness of the other compelled the turning over of this work to others, who are now carrying out the contract.

The bride will be remembered by old-time Alamedans as the widow of the late George Wilson, whose father was one of Alameda's earliest settlers and for whom Wilson school, now Lincoln school, in the East End, was named.

Announcement of the Pastor's Coming Wedding to Another Made Day of Death

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson, pastor of a Baptist church in Cambridge, was arrested early today as a result of the police investigation of the death by poisoning of Miss Avis Linnell, a student at the New England Conservatory of Music. The arrest was made at the home of Moses G. Edmonds, father of Richeson's fiancée, in Brookline. Later Police Judge Murray issued a warrant charging Richeson with first degree murder.

For nearly seven hours eight policemen had been waiting outside the Edmonds home in Brookline for an opportunity to make the arrest. No attention was paid during the night to the police attempts to gain admission to the house. The officers had no warrant for the pastor's arrest and for a time the occupants of the house paid no attention to the repeated rings on the doorbell, but finally some one disconnected the wires. Later the telephone was disconnected.

HOUSE CLOSELY GUARDED

Realizing that there apparently was no prospect of seeing the minister before daybreak, Deputy Superintendent William B. Watts of the Boston police department and Chief Inspector Joseph Dugan of the bureau of criminal investigation placed their men about the house in such a manner as to cut off every avenue of escape. After that the police waited until shortly before 8 o'clock, when Richeson was taken in custody. A day or two before Miss Linnell's death, cards were issued for the wedding of Richeson and Miss Violet Edmonds, which was set for Tuesday.

DEATH WAS SUDDEN

Richeson went to the Edmonds home last Sunday night, almost immediately after he had been informed of the sudden death of Avis Linnell, who, it was said, had been for some time his fiancée. From Sunday night until yesterday afternoon the minister sent word to all callers and ignored every plea for a statement as to his relations with Miss Linnell.

So, insistent were the calls, however, that yesterday Richeson left the Edmonds home and, eluding pursues, came to Boston and consulted James R. Dunbar, a lawyer. Richeson was accompanied by Mrs. Edmonds. Afterward both returned to Brookline. The police last night discovered clues which they had long sought and which led them to take summary action.

POLICE STATEMENT

"We have found out who purchased cyanide of potassium; we know when it was purchased and where, and we are going into that house to ask Mr. Richeson if he bought the deadly drug and at the place in question. If he denies it, he will come out as my prisoner and I have cared for him. I can do so better as his wife. I formerly lived in Alameda, but moved to San Francisco. A few months ago we came back to Alameda. This is my home where we are living."

Richeson submitted to arrest quietly and showed no emotion when led from the Edmonds home by the police. At a brief formal hearing, Richeson was held without bail for further examination October 31, the date set for his wedding, and was sent to jail pending further proceedings. Richeson declined to answer any questions by the police and when taken before Judge Murray waived a reading of the complaint. Miss Edmonds and her mother are over-come by the developments and it was announced today that the wedding had been indefinitely postponed.

SAYS HE SOLD POISON

After arriving at headquarters, Deputy Watts said he received word last evening from Newton that William Hahn, a druggist of Newton Center, had sold cyanide of potassium to Richeson on the night of October 10. Watts at once interviewed the druggist, who, according to the police

A WARNING TO MANY

Some Interesting Facts Regarding Health Statistics

Few people realize to what extent their health depends upon the condition of the kidneys.

The physician in nearly all cases of serious illness, makes a chemical analysis of the patient's urine. He knows that unless the kidneys are doing their work properly, the other organs cannot be brought back to health and strength.

When the kidneys are neglected or abused in any way, serious results are sure to follow. According to health statistics, Bright's disease which is really an advanced form of kidney trouble, caused nearly ten thousand deaths in 1910, in the state of New York alone. Therefore, it behooves us to pay more attention to the health of these most important organs.

An ideal herbal compound that has had remarkable success as a kidney remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy.

The mild and healing influence of this preparation is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of cures.

If you feel that your kidneys require attention, and wish a sample bottle, write to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper and they will gladly forward it to you absolutely free, by mail.

Swamp-Root is sold by every drugist in bottles of two sizes—50c and $1.00.

Verbal Shot at Head of Police Department Reveals Inside Workings of the Chinese Lottery Proposition

"The police department can close the lotteries any time it wants to. The man who has been placed at the head of the police department has as much right to be there as I have to be at the head of a church. Chinese lotteries have been allowed to run because they have been a revenue producing asset to the city."

This unqualified declaration from Attorney Phil M. Walsh was exploded in Police Court No. 2 this morning when Prosecuting Attorney William J. Hennessey moved to have the bail in all Chinese lottery cases now pending on the court calendar raised from $100 to $500. Hennessey's action was part of the new policy that has recently inaugurated in the local police courts.

The specific reference to the head of the police department was directed at Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Fred C. Turner, under whose regime as head of the police department the new policy in regard to Chinese gambling houses has been instituted. Walsh declared that no definite policy had been outlined, and that the matter was being handled in an indefinite and unsatisfactory manner from all points of view.

The matter came up in connection with the case of Ah Fook, found guilty several days ago on a charge of selling lottery tickets. At the time of the trial Ah Fook was out on bail and when the prosecution gained a conviction against the Chinese the defense failed to bring the defendant into court. Judge George Samuels ordered Ah Fook into custody as a defaulting defendant, as the sentence to be imposed by the court might exceed the bail, or might even extend to a sentence involving imprisonment.

The case of Ah Fook has been continuing from day to day since that conviction was gained, but Ah Fook has been sought in vain by the police, and Attorney Phil Walsh, who represented the defendant, has been unable to produce his client in court.

This morning, after the Ah Fook case had already been put over to October 23 for sentence, in the hope that the Chinaman might be produced in court, the cases of Ah Fook, Ah Gee, charged with selling lottery tickets, were called. Prosecuting Attorney W. J. Hennessey moved that their bail be raised from $100 to $500 each to insure their presence in court.

"What is understood," declared Attorney L. S. Church, who is associated with Phil M. Walsh in the defense, "just because one Chinaman failed to appear in court, there is no justice in making a ruling that would work a hardship on all the rest. All Chinese are not alike, any more than all Americans are alike, and it would be as unfair to make this ruling as it would be to make a ruling that because one American jumped his bail no others should be admitted to bail."

A heated discussion of the Chinese lottery matter in general arose, in which Walsh and Church took part, and which led to a discussion of the general policy of the courts in these cases. In the past it has been the custom to raise the Chinese lottery places and to admit the defendants to bail of $100 in each case. The Chinese tacitly forfeited bail, which was cut in half, making a forfeiture of $50 in each case. This drew into the city treasury about $50,000 a year, it is alleged.

PUT UP TO COURTS.

Recently there was an agitation against the lottery places by the Federation of Churches and other organizations, and as a result the matter was widely discussed. The police department explains that the matter was put to the courts for permitting the forfeiture of bail in all cases instead of carrying them to trial.

The reply of the two courts was the placing of all Chinese lottery cases on the calendar for trial, and the action of Judges Mortimer Smith and George Samuels to permit further forfeitures. A score or more of cases thus placed on the calendar were dismissed on the motion of the prosecuting attorney on account of lack of sufficient evidence to convict, and the bail in these cases was returned. The case of Ah Fook was the first conviction gained under the new policy, and Ah Fook has not been produced in court.

In discussing the matter in court this morning, frequent reference was made by the attorneys for the defense to the alleged agreement which is said to have existed by which the Chinese lotteries were permitted to run, only to be raided several times a month when the city was in need of some bail money.

TELLS OF AGREEMENT.

"Such an agreement was reached between attorneys for the lottery places and the city officials," declared Attorney Church this morning. "While that agreement was in operation the Chinese had a right to consider that their bail would not be raised unduly. If the agreement was to be abrogated they should be given a chance to go out of business if they wanted to."

It was at this point that Attorney Walsh mixed ginger in the proceedings by making his reference to Commissioner of Health and Safety Turner.

He declared that a reasonable policy has been determined. "The man at the head of the police department has about as much right to be there as I would be at the head of a church. It is my opinion that the lotteries have been allowed to run to gain revenue for the city. If the man at the head of the department says he wants them closed, the lottery places will be closed, and that is all there is to it."

TURNER'S STATEMENT.

When asked about the assertion that the Chinese lottery places could be closed immediately if the police department took a determined stand about it, Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Fred C. Turner said:

"This department has taken a decided stand and there is absolutely no question as to what that stand is. I have issued orders that the lottery places must be closed, and I am going to see that they are closed if I have to station a policeman in front of every one of the thirty or more alleged Chinese lottery houses. I instructed the Chief of Police Wilson to have the attorneys for the lottery houses informed that we were no longer going to stand for bail forfeiture, or for the running of the lottery joints. I have been told several times about an alleged former agreement between the attorneys for the lottery houses and the city. That was before my time, and I wish to state positively that under the regime the police department will not be in any way an adjunct or assistant to the tax collector's office. We are enforcing the laws, and that is the first policy of this department."

officials, told this story of the alleged sale:

"Rev. Mr. Richeson, whom I know well, came to my store on the night of October 10 and told me he had a young woman whom he desired to get rid of in the easiest way possible. I suggested that he chloroform the dog, but Mr. Richeson said he did not like the smell of the drug. I then suggested cyanide of potassium and put enough in an open vial to kill three dogs. I warned the minister to be careful how he handled the potassium and to destroy the vial after he had killed the dog.

"Mr. Richeson had sent me an invitation to his wedding with Miss Edmonds and before he left the store he told me not to forget to come. The minister also requested me to keep the cyanide of potassium a secret. I told no one until the Linnell case developed."

On the warrant charging Richeson with first degree murder, it was at first intended to bring the minister into court without delay and continue his case until October 31.

Avis Linnell, 19 years of age, whose home was at Hyannis, Mass., was found dead in the bathroom of the Young Woman's Christian Association home in this city last Saturday. At first it was believed that she had committed suicide, but later developments showed that she had unknowingly taken cyanide of potassium given or sent to her by some other person, which she used in the belief that it would remedy physical conditions which were causing misery. Miss Linnell had previously been a friend of Richeson and it was understood at Hyannis that an engagement existed.

Later, however, the clergyman became engaged to Miss Edmonds, whose father is a member of the Newton Theological Institution, where Richeson studied for the ministry.

Richeson is 35 years of age and is a native of Rosehill, Va.

He was graduated from William Jewell College, Liberty, Mo., in 1906. Later he took the ministerial course and was graduated from Newton Theological Institution. He was ordained to the ministry in St. Louis. His pastorate at Hyannis was his first regular charge. Richeson, according to those who know him, is of a nervous temperament and has been in ill-health throughout his ministerial career.

HINES ACCUSED OF

Witness Says Lumberman Collected $100,000 for Election of U. S. Senator.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 20.—The story that Edward Hines, the lumberman, helped "put over" the election of Senator Isaac Stephenson and that Hines employed Robert J. Shields to work on the case, both at Washington and at Madison, Wis., was repeated before the senatorial investigating committee today.

Wirt H. Cook, a lumberman of Duluth, declared he had secured information from Daniel Haley, another lumberman of Duluth, that Shields had had a falling out with Hines because Shields wanted $150,000 for the work and Hines refused to pay that much, saying Stephenson ought to pay half of it.

Regarding a conversation in Chicago with Lieutenant Governor Morris and other Cook testified that he had heard Hines raised about $100,000 or $115,000 to "put over" the election. The statement was based on what Hines had heard about Shields.

Cook then related a conversation which he said occurred between Hines and Henry Turrish in a hotel lobby in Chicago in May, 1909.

"Turrish asked Hines how he was getting on. Having a hard time," replied Hines. "For instance, I have a son, Stephen. After I elected him he goes down to Washington and votes for free lumber."

Alameda County Asked

To Make an Exhibit

Have Opportunity to Show Products in the "Governor's Special."

The Alameda County General Exposition commission has been asked to install an exhibit of Alameda county products, manufactured and natural, in the special California car which will form part of the special train to be sent out under the auspices of the Western Development Association to boost the west Mississippi country. Wilber Walker, secretary of the county commission, is also treasurer of the Western Development board, and through him the commission has been given a week in which to determine whether it can make the exhibit or not.

The special train, to be known as the "Governor's Special," will contain exhibits from each of the western states forming part of the association, which is to meet this year in Pocatello, Idaho, beginning October 25. It will be sent out from St. Paul on November 25, and will visit Chicago and New York, going also as far south as Louisville, Ky., and west as far as Indianapolis, Ind.

Walker, together with W. H. Nicholls, processor of the fruit and flower exhibit of the commission, is now in attendance at the Omaha Land Show, from which place he goes to Chicago. The commission has permanent exhibits at the present time in the local Chamber of Commerce rooms, in Los Angeles, and in the Key Route Information Bureau in San Francisco, in addition to its eastern displays. It is possible suitable material for the special train will not be available.

BUTTERS' ESTATE

WORTH $507,909

Inventory and Appraisal Is Approximately Same as Estimated.

An inventory and appraisal of the Lucie Beebe Butters estate, filed today by the appraisers, George H. Richardson, F. J. Woodward and E. J. Tyrell, shows that the property left by the deceased amounts to $507,909, the amount being approximately as estimated during the drawn-out contest of the will which was broken several months ago by the heirs, Mrs. R. A. Bray, Paul Edwards, Margaret and Marie Butters.

It was shown to the satisfaction of a jury that the divorced wife of the South African mining and railway magnate, Henry A. Butters, was of unsound mind when she drew up her will and that she made legacies which it would be impossible for the executors to pay from the income of the estate. Henry A. Butters Jr., was residuary legatee.

$33,850 HOME.

Among the items enumerated in the lengthy appraisal is the home place, Alta Vista, in Piedmont, which is listed at $33,850 together with improvements, property on San Pablo and Sixteenth street valued at $339,000 and a claim of the administrator against the estate of Henry A. Butters for $105,296.

Wines and liquors in the cellars at Alta Vista are valued at more than $1000 and include a large selection of choice vintages. Jewelry which is in a safe deposit vault is valued at $6758, among the most valuable pieces being two diamond brooches $500, a diamond necklace $1500, two diamond rings $500 and a sapphire bracelet with diamonds $1500. There is $11,057 cash on hand. Household articles and personal effects constitute several thousands of dollars. A majority of the property, however, is not revenue producing.

CAUSES ARREST OF

ALLEGED PICKPOCKET

OWNER OF "BLIND PIG" FINED $200 BY TAPPAN

ALAMEDA, Oct. 20.—Joseph Martioli, convicted Tuesday of running a blind pig on Webster street, was fined $200 or 100 days in jail by Judge R. B. Tappan this morning. Infliction of sentence was postponed until next Monday to give Martioli a chance to raise the money. His attorney, John L. McVey, moved for a new trial but the motion was denied.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Charles Westrup, a farmer from Fresno, was passing the corner of Fourth and Tehama streets, when he was accosted by a man who held him in conversation. Later Westrup missed $100 in money and his eye glasses. He informed Policeman Mahoney of the Southern station, and pointed out George Hansen, whom he accused of the robbery. Hansen was charged at the Southern station with grand larceny.

DEPOSITS HEAVY
IN POSTAL BANK

Receipts Average Thousand Dollars Daily in Local Institution.

The receipts of the local postal savings bank average about $1000 a day. There are now about 380 depositors. The popularity of the institution is increasing daily. The amount of the deposits at the present time is nearly $25,000. It is the intention of the postal department to move the money order department of the local postoffice, which is in an adjoining room, into the same department with the postal savings bank and locate in the present money-order room the superintendent of mails and the inspector. The treasury department in Washington has now before it for consideration, aside for the purpose of supplying, the bank with the furniture required for the expeditious dispatch of business. At the present time, the patrons of the bank enter the room through a door which opens off the hall, on the second story of the building, and then line up in front of a counter with no upper casing or frame, such as are to be found in all banks. A radical change is contemplated in this respect. The west wall of the corridor in

Daughters in Danger

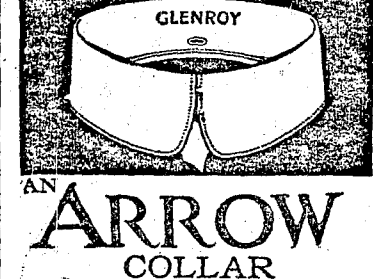

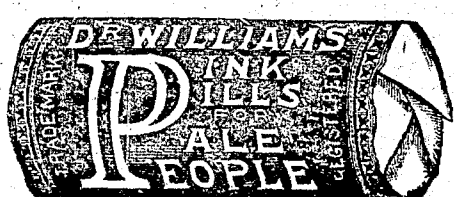

There must be no guesswork about the treatment of pale, anaemic girls. If your daughter is languid, has a pale, sallow complexion, is short of breath, especially on going up stairs, has palpitation of the heart, a tendency to faint and a poor appetite, she has anaemia or lack of blood. Mistakes or delay in the treatment may result in such serious impairment of her health that she will be weak and sickly during the rest of her life.

Anaemia is a loss of richness in the blood which cannot be made good without careful, intelligent treatment. The disease occurs in overworked girls and in those who overstudy or are under some strain. It may also be inherited from the mother.

Mrs. Carl A. Wickstrom of McCloud, Cal., says: "When I was sixteen years old I was afflicted with anaemia; my mother had been afflicted in the same way. I was pale, languid and had no ambition. I had palpitation of the heart and was short of breath. I tired out very easily. I was dizzy at times and saw black specks before my eyes. My ankles were swollen. The doctors prescribed iron, quinine and strychnine, saying that I had anaemia and needed a tonic for the blood. They did not seem to help me and when I had been sick a year I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They helped me right away and after taking a few boxes I was much improved in health. My color came back, I had a better appetite and was stronger. I used the pills until cured. I have used the pills several times since as a tonic, especially after the birth of my children. There is no more backache or headache or tired feeling when you take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

The most satisfactory way to give the blood the elements which it lacks is through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. A thorough, persistent trial will make the blood pure and red.

Two booklets, "Plain Talks to Women" and "Diseases of the Blood," will be sent free upon request of any woman interested. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes, $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

PAPER CONTRACT IS TURNED DOWN

The Board of Control Refuses to Ratify Order Given by Secretary Jordan.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 20.—The State Board of Control refused yesterday to confirm a contract that Secretary of State Frank Jordan made with the Zellerbach Paper company of San Francisco to supply ballot paper for an approaching Los Angeles primary election. Jordan wired the board from San Francisco that he had placed an order with the Zellerbach people for 225 reams of 28x42 inch paper to be delivered to Los Angeles, 75 to Sacramento and the remainder to the order of the Secretary of State. He explained his action by saying that he had just learned that the paper was needed in Los Angeles not later than October 21, and that Zellerbach was the only firm that could supply the paper with the proper watermark in the time limit. With this message, a telegram from the Zellerbach people saying that they could not fill the order if it was not confirmed by the Board of Control before 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

ANSWER QUICK. The board received Jordan's message at 2 o'clock and immediately wired Jordan that it would not stand for his contract, but that he could go ahead and order the 40 reams needed for the Los Angeles election after he had received bids from at least six reputable firms. According to Jordan's statement, he was compelled to pay the company $100 more for a total order of about $540 worth of paper by paying 40 reams to the Zellerbach company, but he explained that this company is the only one that can furnish the paper in time and that he didn't think that $100 should be paid when the holding of the Los Angeles election is in jeopardy. The board of control in its reply to Jordan observed that Jordan ordered 225 reams when the emergency conditions demanded only 40, and second, that paper ordered should be 32 inches wide, which the company has in stock when the size required is but 28x35 inches. Thus about 4 to 6 per cent of the paper would be waste, but the State would have to pay for it.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Secretary of State Jordan explained yesterday that the paper ordered for a rush order, made necessary by the State Board of Control rejecting bids recently made by seven paper firms in this city. He said the city clerk of Los Angeles notified him that 110 reams would be needed for the primary election. Thereupon Jordan ordered 225 reams of ballot paper, containing the secret water mark from the Zellerbach Paper company, for use in the two Los Angeles elections and the election at Sacramento. "This rush order," said Jordan, "is costing the State $2.75 per ream, or 41 cents per ream more than the price paid in open competition. The total difference between the $100 to be paid by the State and the $540 worth of paper ordered by the State up to the presidential election."

FIRST FISHER GIRL
ARRIVES ON VISIT

Mrs. May C. Lassen at Home of Parents in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Mrs. May C. Lassen, the first model to pose for Harrison Fisher, the artist, arrived in San Francisco yesterday to spend two months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Reimer, of 1775 Waller street. Fifteen years ago, when young Fisher was just beginning to be known as an illustrator, Mrs. Lassen, then Mrs. Frank W. Stechen, wife of the manager of the old Newmarket Theater in Portland, met him in New York, consented to sit for him and for seven years her face and figure in various poses adorned the pages of "Puck," the "Saturday Evening Post" and other periodicals. Fisher had known Mrs. Lassen in her girlhood, when she was Marie Reimer. Fame followed his portrayal of her, and it was not long before Henry Hutt, a close friend of Fisher's, asked the beautiful model to sit for him.

Fisher made no objection for some time, but finally claimed that his and Hutt's work were growing too similar from the use of the same model and told Mrs. Lassen she must pose for him only or not at all. To this she consented and until she married Alexander Lassen, editor of a technical paper in New York, she posed for Fisher only. This is the first time for more than sixteen years that Mr. and Mrs. Reimer have seen their daughter. His father came to California in 1852. He was the first landscape gardener in this city and imported many of the first flowers planted here. He loved for flowers to be inherited by his daughter, and claims that her taste in dress, acclaimed by New York artists when she was posing, comes as a natural gift through a parent who spent his lifetime in beautifying the gardens of San Francisco.

SUIT FILED AGAINST PORT COSTA WATER CO.

MARTINEZ, Oct. 20.—Barr Mahoney of Concord filed suit yesterday against the Port Costa Water company in which he asks $50,469 as the result of the death of his son, John E. Mahoney, on August 10, 1910. The water was running in an auto on the Port Costa road when the machine plunged into a ditch, which it is alleged was left open by employees of the company without proper danger signals. Clarence Kline and William Pacheco were killed in addition to John Mahoney. Barr Mahoney, another member of the auto party, recently filed suit for $10,000 damages against the company.

WHO'S WHO UNDER LATELY PASSED SUFFRAGE MEASURE

Woman's Political Status in California Is Set Forth by Former Assistant U. S. Attorney Carlos G. White

(By ATTORNEY CARLOS G. WHITE, formerly Assistant United States Attorney, in charge of Citizenship and Naturalization in California, Nevada and Arizona.)

There seems to be considerable misunderstanding as to the effect of the recent constitutional amendment upon the political status of women. Some people have thought that a woman was not a citizen because she did not have the right to vote, and that the recently passed constitutional amendment makes all women citizens, and gives to all women the right to vote. But this view, of course, is erroneous. All women will not be entitled to vote any more than all men will be extended only to such women as are citizens of the United States and have reached the age of 21 years.

The question as to what women are citizens of the United States is itself a puzzling one. Any man born in the United States is a citizen by virtue of the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which makes every person born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to its jurisdiction, a citizen. This amendment, in its terms, applies to women also, but in 1897, in the expatriation act passed that year by Congress, it is provided that if any American woman marries a foreigner, she shall take the nationality of her husband, and the courts have held, at least in one case, that this applies to a native-born woman, even though she and her husband remain in the United States. So long as she remains married to a foreigner her American citizenship is suspended, and it has even been held that a woman, during the lifetime of her husband, cannot, by her own petition, be naturalized. Upon the death of the American-born woman's alien husband, or her divorce from him, if she remains in the United States, she again becomes an American citizen.

Native-born women, who are not married to foreigners, but who are married to citizens of this country, remain at all times citizens of the United States. In respect to foreign-born women, it makes no material difference whether the woman is married or single. If she is not married, there are three different ways in which she may become a citizen of the United States:

First.—If, during her minority, her parent or parents become citizens of the United States and she herself becomes a resident of the United States during her minority, she would become a citizen merely through the naturalization of her parent.

Second.—If she marries a man who is an American citizen, that act makes her an American citizen, and even should her husband die, or a divorce occur, she would retain her American citizenship if she remains in this country, unless she should make a formal renunciation of American citizenship before a court authorized to receive such renunciation. Thirdly.—An unmarried foreign-born woman may become naturalized by declaring her intention and petitioning for citizenship in exactly the same manner as does a man.

However, in respect to foreign-born women who are married, they are, as the law now stands, absolutely precluded from acquiring citizenship by any act or acts of their own. If the husband is a citizen, the wife is a citizen; but if the husband is not a citizen, the only way in which she can acquire citizenship is through the naturalization of her husband.

Widows and foreign born children of aliens who died after they had declared their intention of becoming citizens, but before the completion of their naturalization, are protected by a special provision of the law to the effect that such widow and minor children may, by petitioning to the court, be naturalized upon their own part, thus without having made the previous exception such widow and children from the two years wait which must elapse between the time of the declaring of the declaration of intention and the petitioning for citizenship for naturalization.

A large number of persons are undoubtedly claiming to be citizens whose rights to citizenship are not well founded—a fact which generally develops just as such persons are about to enter upon the enjoyment of some right that can be enjoyed only by citizens of the United States. Under the law as it stood until recently, such persons could not acquire naturalization until at least two years and three months after the discovery of their plight, that is, by making a declaration of intention, waiting two years, and then petitioning the court.

But, for the relief of this class of persons, congress has recently provided that persons who resided in the United States from May 1, 1905, to May 1, 1910, and through misinformation thought they were citizens, or entitled to be citizens, and have in good faith exercised the rights they thought they were entitled to, may immediately apply to the court for naturalization without having made the declaration of intention required of all other persons.

Doubtless considerable confusion will arise by reason of the many principles which have to be taken into consideration in determining the citizenship of women, but if the foregoing rules are applied, it ought to be possible, except in a few special instances, for such persons to immediately determine their citizenship, whether native born or foreign born.

SCIENTISTS CHASE
TWO NEW COMETS

Sky Wanderers May Now Be Seen With Strong Naked Eye.

LICK OBSERVATORY, University of California, Oct. 20.—At the present time astronomers are enjoying the unusual experience of observing two bright comets, one in the western sky shortly after sunset, the other in the eastern sky in the early morning. The former, discovered by M. Delawsky, on September 25, has just passed its point of nearest approach to the sun, almost grazing its surface, and is now traveling rapidly away from it. At present it is a conspicuous object for naked eye observation, having a very bright head and a tail about 7 degrees long. It should be looked for a little north of the sunset point, immediately after dark. It probably will be main visible for at least a week longer. The head of the other comet, discovered by Dr. Brooks last July, is brighter now than that of Halley's at its brightest, and as it is still traveling toward the sun, it should increase in brightness during the next few days. At a height of an hour or so, the tail could be traced with the naked eye through about 20 degrees. For the remainder of the month it will be a brilliant object in the morning sky, northeast of Venus, the morning star. The best time to see it is a little before 5 o'clock.

In addition to these two bright comets, at least four others, visible only with the telescope, are known to be in the neighborhood of the sun. One of these, Encke's comet, returns to the sun at regular intervals of about three and a half years, and has been observed on numerous occasions. Another is now making its second known visit to the sun. The remaining two, like the two bright comets, move in what astronomers call parabolic orbits, and are now seen for the first time, so far as is known.

SUBURBAN HOMES
DENIED TEACHERS

San Francisco Educators Must Live There, Says Court.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—All school teachers employed by the Board of Education here must reside within the city and county of San Francisco.

Such, in effect, was the ruling of the Supreme Court yesterday in handing down an opinion sustaining the appeal of the Board of Education and declaring the resolution passed some time ago requiring teachers to reside within the city and county to be valid.

Backed by other teachers residing across the bay, Margaret M. Stewart, one of the instructors brought suit in the Superior Court to have the Board of Education's resolution declared void some time ago. Her objections were based mainly on the grounds that the enforcement of the resolution would require another qualification of instructors. The claim was also made that the Board is a State institution, and, therefore, living within the State would entitle a teacher to the right to be employed by the Board. The Superior Court upheld her, but the Supreme Justices took a different view.

The higher tribunal, in its opinion, maintained that while the Board has the right to establish all necessary rules and regulations to properly govern the school system, according to the provisions of the State laws, it also has the right to exercise such rules as are provided by the city's charter, notably that requiring all municipal employees to live within the municipal boundaries. The Court referred to danger of tardiness occasioned by transportation delays, and wound up the opinion by declaring the resolution to be one intended for the benefit of children and parents, and not for the restricting of a teacher's residence. About fifty teachers will be affected by the ruling.

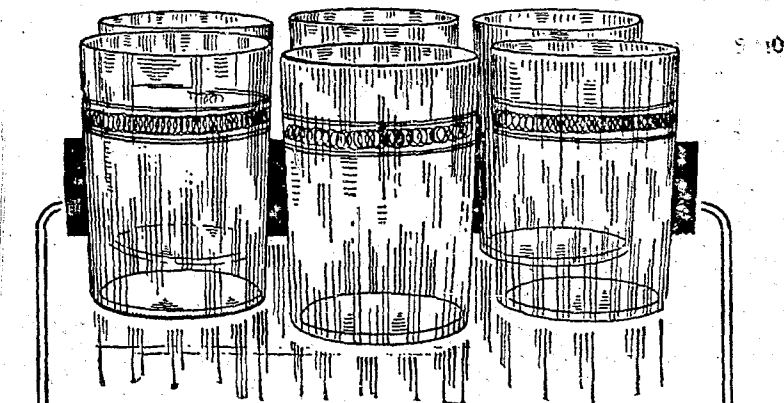

"The Blood is The Life"

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgement are effected, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood.

Foul, impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It enriches and purifies the blood thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by inclosing fifty cents in postage stamps to Dr. R.V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

QUESTION STATUS OF ARMY AVIATORS

Italy Declares Birdmen Should Be Treated as Prisoners of War.

ROME, Oct. 20.—An interesting discussion is being held in military circles as to how the Turks will be likely to treat the Italian military aviators if the latter fall into their hands.

It is recalled that the passengers of five French balloons captured by the Prussians in 1870 were considered spies by Bismarck.

In the present case the aviators wear military uniforms and do not conceal their identity in reconnoitering the enemy's position. Accordingly the Italians think that if captured the aviators should be accorded the protection of prisoners of war.

FIRST PLAY BRINGS $25,000.
ASTORIA, Ore., Oct. 20.—At a banquet at the Weinhard Astoria hotel last night the chamber of commerce appointed a committee of one hundred women to purchase "The Bridge of the Gods" from Miss Michel Ferris of Los Angeles. The price agreed on by those back of the movement is $25,000. It is Miss Ferris' first play and was produced at the Astoria Centennial August 11. She is to have the exclusive dramatic right of this play forever and the plan is to produce it annually.

MRS. A. S. BORBA.

FRUITVALE, Oct. 20.—The first joint military ball to be given by the local partners of the Native Sons and Native Daughters will be held tomorrow night at Eagles' Hall, on East Fourteenth street, near Lese avenue. The affair promises to be one of the largest ever given in this section. The hall will be elaborately decorated in the colors of both organizations.

On the arrangements committee of the Native Daughters are: Miss Mary Barthold, chairman; Miss Lena Gill, Miss May Helmo, Mrs. Nellie Crowley, Mrs. Rose Borba and Miss Elva MacLean. The Native Sons committee is as follows: B. F. Dutton, George Borba, Irving Gardner, James Nagle, Joseph Long and Ray Selt.

COUNTRESS IS SUED BY SALOON KEEPER

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The financial straits of the Countess of Warwick, who, with Mrs. Keppel, the late King Edward's closest friend, is a suffragette leader, narrowly escaped airing in court this week when a suit for $25,000, brought by a London saloonkeeper, came up for hearing.

Powerful influences caused the temporary postponement of the portion of the Countess to dispose of a portion of the Warwick estate, possibly even historic Warwick Castle, to square her debts.

It is now rumored that the Countess, who declares she was swindled in one transaction to the extent of $250,000, may go to America to look after her own business interests.

Meanwhile the British publican, who is the proprietor of the famous "pub" called the Windsor Castle in Victoria street, declares he must be satisfied. He is Al Paine, who branched out from liquor selling to lending money and forming half a dozen industrial enterprises. He accumulated a fortune, but still prefers to transact business at the Windsor Castle, where his noble patrons must pass through the ale bar to reach the dingy office.

CAN'T EARN $10 A WEEK.
His candid opinion of his friends in the nobility, including the Countess of Warwick, as expressed to a correspondent is: "They all act and look like a lot of perambulating Rothschilds, but not one could earn $10 a week."

His suit also drags in the name of Hoolley, the former famous London financier, now bankrupt, and Everett Polden, president of the Palace Theater Company.

Polden was Frank J. Gould's guiding light in the latter's ill-fated attempt to secure control of the Gaiety Theater by ousting George Edwards, and he is now further initiating Gould into the theatrical mysteries in the "building" of the new Victoria Palace Music Hall.

Paine first sued Hoolley for $150,000 which he lent the former promoter. Paine got an award of only half his claim. He declared Polden, who was arbitrator, ran his own fee up to $5000.

SAN FRANCISCO DEFIES POLICE

Runs Amuck With Loaded Gun and Is Arrested With Difficulty.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—After terrorizing the neighborhood with a loaded revolver, defying the police and finally being captured only after the greatest difficulty, Alessandro Brasatti, 1213 Sansome street was looked up last night for threats against life and discharging firearms within the city limits.

Policeman Michael Grady heard a shot coming from the direction of Greenwich and Sansome street, and running to the scene encountered three men who told him that Brasatti, who was standing some fifty feet away, had fired a gun without cause. Grady was in plain clothes, but displaying his star, pointed upon the pistol wielder, who threatened to kill him if he came too near. The officer drew his own revolver and advanced cautiously, but before he could capture his man the latter ran upstairs in the lodging house at 1213 Sansome street and barricaded the door of his room.

Grady's effort to gain entrance to the room were fruitless, but on the arrival of Patrolmen Homan and Welch the door was smashed in and Brasatti was found with his weapon in his hand and a box of cartridges by his side. The entrance of the officers with drawn revolvers was too sudden for him to have an opportunity of firing his own pistol.

QUESTION STATUS OF ARMY AVIATORS

Italy Declares Birdmen Should Be Treated as Prisoners of War.

ROME, Oct. 20.—An interesting discussion is being held in military circles as to how the Turks will be likely to treat the Italian military aviators if the latter fall into their hands.

It is recalled that the passengers of five French balloons captured by the Prussians in 1870 were considered spies by Bismarck.

In the present case the aviators wear military uniforms and do not conceal their identity in reconnoitering the enemy's position. Accordingly the Italians think that if captured the aviators should be accorded the protection of prisoners of war.

The price agreed on by those back of the movement is $25,000. It is Miss Ferris' first play and was produced at the Astoria Centennial August 11. Astoria is to have the exclusive dramatic right of this play forever and the plan is to produce it annually.

COUNTESS IS SUED BY SALOON KEEPER

Suffragette Leader Uses Powerful Friends to Escape Court.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The financial straits of the Countess of Warwick, who, with Mrs. Keppel, the late King Edward's closest friend, is a suffragette leader, narrowly escaped airing in court this week when a suit for $25,000, brought by a London saloonkeeper, came up for hearing.

Powerful influences caused the temporary postponement on the promise of the Countess to dispose of a portion of the Warwick estate, possibly even the historic Warwick Castle, to square her debts.

It is now rumored that the Countess, who declares she was swindled in one transaction to the extent of $250,000, may go to America to look after her own business interests.

Meanwhile the British publican, who is the proprietor of the famous "pub" called the Windsor Castle, in Victoria street, declares he must be satisfied. He is Al Paine, who branched out from liquor selling to lending money and is forming half a dozen industrial enterprises. He accumulated a fortune, but still prefers to transact business at the Windsor Castle, where his noble patrons must pass through the ale bar to reach the dingy office.

CAN'T EARN $10 A WEEK.
His candid opinion of his friends in the nobility, including the Countess, of Warwick, as expressed to a correspondent is:

"They all eat and look like a lot of perambulating Rothschilds, but not one could earn $10 a week."
Paine's suit also drags in the name of Hooley, the former famous London financier, now bankrupt, and Everett Foster, president of the Palace Theatre Company.

Polden was Frank J. Gould's guiding light in the latter's ill-fated attempt to secure control of the Gaiety Theatre by ousting George Edwards, and he is now furthering Gould into the theatrical mysteries in the building of the new Victoria Palace Music Hall.

Paine first sued Hooley for $150,000 which he lent the former promoter. Paine got an award of only half his claim. He declared Foster, who was arbitrator, ran his own fee up to $5000.

SAN FRANCISCO DEFIES POLICE

Runs Amuck With Loaded Gun and Is Arrested With Difficulty.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—After terrorizing the neighborhood with a loaded revolver, defying the police and finally being captured only after the greatest difficulty, Alexandro Brasatti of 1312 Sansome street was locked up last night for threats against life and discharging firearms within the city limits.

Policeman Michael Grady heard a shot coming from the direction of Greenwich and Sansome street, and running to the scene encountered three men who told him that Brasatti, who was standing some fifty feet away, had fired a gun without cause. Grady was in plain clothes, but displaying his star, pounced upon the pistol wielder, who threatened to kill him if he came too near. The officer drew his own revolver and advanced cautiously, but before he could capture his man the latter ran upstairs in the lodging house at 1312 Sansome street and barricaded the door of his room.

Grady's effort to gain entrance to the room were fruitless, but on the arrival of Patrolmen Hanrahan and Welch the door was smashed in and Brasatti was found with his weapon in his hand and a box of cartridges by his side. The entrance of the officers with drawn revolvers was too sudden for him to have an opportunity of firing his own pistol.

WHEN THE STOMACH STOPS

Working Properly, Because There is Wind in It, Use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to Set It Going Again.

A Trial Package Free. The doctors call it flatulency, but unprofessional folks know it is "wind on the stomach," and a most distressing condition of this great motor organ. Always annoying and painful in the extreme, at times often leading to bad and fatal results. The stomach embarrassed and hampered with wind cannot take care of its food properly and indigestion follows, and this has the appalling results to enumerate. The entire system is implicated—made an active or passive factor in this trouble and life soon becomes a questionable boon.

All this is explained in doctor books; but undigested food causes gases by fermentation and fermentation in which process some essential fluids are destroyed—burnt up—wasted by chemical action, followed by defective nutrition and the distribution through the alimentary tract of chemically wrong elements and as a consequence the stomach and entire system is starved. Plenty of food, you see, but spoilt in preparation and worse than worthless.

A deranged stomach is the epitome of evil; nothing too bad to emanate from it, but the gas it generates is probably its worst primary effect and the only way to go away with this is to remove the cause. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets go to the root of this trouble. They attack the gas-making foods and render them harmless. Flatulency or wind on the stomach simply cannot exist where these powerful and efficient working little tablets are in evidence.

They were made for this very purpose to attack gas-making foods and convert them into proper nutriment. This is their province and office. A whole book could be written about them and then not all told that might be told with profit to sufferers from this painful disease, dyspepsia. It would mention the years of patient and expensive experiment in effort to arrive at this result—of failures innumerable and at last success. It would make mention of the different stomach correctives that enter into this tablet and make it faithfully represent all.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not alone intended for the sick, but well folks as well; for the person who craves hearty foods and wants to eat heartily and run the risk of bad effects, they act like a charm and make eating and digestion a delight and pleasure. They keep the stomach healthy and energetic. They are able and willing to do extra work without special labor or effort. Don't forget this. Well people are often neglected, but Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have them in mind.

A free trial package will be sent any one who wants to know just what they are, how they look and taste, before beginning treatment with them. After this go to the drug store for them; every where, here or at home, they are 50 cents a box, and by getting them at home you will save time and postage. Your doctor will prescribe them; they say there are 40,000 doctors using them, but when you know what is the cause of your trouble, you can get the benefit of a prescription? For free trial package address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Building, Marshall, Michigan.

IMPROVEMENTS AT PARKS PLANNED

Band Concerts Will Open at Lakeside One Week From Next Sunday.

Band concerts in Lakeside Park will commence on Sunday, October 29, according to an announcement made at the meeting of the board of park commissioners in morning. The board will be the first musical organization to appear and all the other bands in this vicinity desiring to contest will be given an opportunity to do so. The contest will decide which band is to be selected by the commissioners as the permanent city band to give regular open air concerts in the new city playground.

The stand erected at the time of President Taft's visit to the park and the nucleus of the amphitheater to be constructed there. The Piedmont Cane Club obtained permission from the park commissioners to erect a boat house on the shore of Lake Merritt in some place designated by the landscape artist of the commission. It was provided that the house should conform to the general landscape plan for the beautification of the lake shores and that the permit should be revocable at the pleasure of the board.

An offer of a tame coyote for exhibition in Mosswood Park was not accepted by the board, although it was suggested that favorable action be taken so that the bounty on the animal's scalp might be collected from the county treasurer.

Under the direction of the commission 500 of each variety, willow and eucalyptus trees, will be purchased immediately and planted in different parks and in other city property.

LOOK SHARP! ARE YOU IN THIS PICTURE, MR. COMMUTER?

ARROW MEANS PAIR OF FREE THEATER TICKETS FOR YOU

Perhaps you are one of the lucky five today. If an arrow points to you come to THE TRIBUNE office and get two theater tickets.

Are You a Victim of 'Commuter's Heart?' This Newspaper Has the Only Cure in the World; Keep Your Eye on the Photograph

Commuter's heart. Have you heard of it? It is the very latest in fashionable complaints.

Commuters only are susceptible. In its early stages it is accompanied by a flutter under the seventh rib. Later the victim casts furtive glances here and there. Later again he will leap, startled, into the air at any click he may hear.

And finally, its ravages bring about in the commuter's system an unquenchable desire to get in the range of every camera he sees.

THE TRIBUNE did it. This paper takes the blame and the cure. Since 1 p. m. yesterday, when the first afternoon edition of THE TRIBUNE appeared on the street, announcing free theater tickets sans cost and sans labor, the disease has spread with remarkable rapidity. Nothing has been found to stop it. All efforts have been useless.

And here's the why of it:

THE TRIBUNE is printing pictures like that above, daily. They are photographs of commuters, snapped at railway depots, on ferry boats and wherever commuters congregate.

You will also notice five arrows in the picture. They are pointing to five persons.

And all the lucky five have to do is call at THE TRIBUNE's main business office, Eighth and Broadway, present themselves to Secretary-Treasurer B. A. Forster, and prove they are the persons pictured.

Then Mr. Forster will present each of the five with two tickets to "The Commuters," one of the funniest plays of the season, which will be seen at the Macdonough theater all of next week, beginning Monday night.

EASY, ISN'T IT? Really, that's just like finding the tickets, isn't it? All that's necessary is to read THE TRIBUNE every day while the pictures are being run. You can never tell when YOU will be the lucky person.

THE TRIBUNE photographer goes here, there and everywhere in search of subjects. Perhaps he'll get you today. Maybe he has already. He is about at all hours.

The photographs are run every day in all editions of THE TRIBUNE. They always picture an aggregation of commuters. There are always five of them singled out by the arrows.

Look sharp, now! THE TRIBUNE's camera man will get you if you don't want out.

Then you'll be in for two tickets to "The Commuters."

The second you see your face, his eye away to THE TRIBUNE's main business office at Eighth and Broadway. See the show with your wife or sweetheart, or your husband or best-beloved, as the guests of this newspaper.

BREAKING OUT COVERED BODY

Where Scratched It Made Sores, Terrible Itching and Burning Kept Her from Sleeping, Cuticura Remedies Completely Cured Her. No Return.

"Three years ago this winter I had a breaking out that covered my whole body. It itched so it seemed as if I should go crazy."

It first came out in little pimples on my back and spread till it covered my whole body and limbs down to my knees, also my arms down to my elbows. Where I scratched, it made sores and the terrible itching and burning kept me from sleeping. I tried several remedies all to no purpose. Then I concluded to try the Cuticura Remedies. I used the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, also the Resolvent, for about four months, and they completely cured me of eczema. I have had no return of the disease since. I never had a good night's rest after the skin eruption first broke out till I commenced using the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I had only used them a few days before I could see they were beginning to heal, and the terrible itching was gone.

"Those that lived in the house at the time know how I suffered, and how the Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured me. I never took a bath without using the Cuticura Soap, and I do not believe there are better remedies for any skin disease than the Cuticura Soap and Ointment." (Signed) Miss Sarah Collins, Waukegan Ill., Mar. 16, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment are for sale throughout the world, but to those who have suffered much, lost hope and are without faith in any treatment, a liberal sample of each together with 32-p. booklet on the care and treatment of the skin and scalp will be mailed free, on application. INVITES SALOON MEN TO CHURCH

New York Pastor Would Discuss the "Drink Evil" With Them.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Saloonkeepers in all parts of New York city are receiving today letters from the Rev. Dr. Dudley O. Osterheld, inviting them to attend the services at the Buffalo Avenue Methodist Episcopal church in Brooklyn next Sunday evening and discuss with him the "drink evil."

Dr. Osterheld assures the liquor dealers that his invitation is not designed as a trap, and that he will not be personal or say anything that might make them feel uncomfortable.

"I believe," said the letters, "that if you men would come into closer touch with us you would very soon see the fairness of our claim. I believe many of you would get out of the business to-day if you thought you could. You think you can't. You do not like the business yourselves."

"I hope you will find time to come to our church next Sunday and hear our side of the matter. This is no scheme to get you to church and then pound you to shame. You will not be in any way embarrassed."

GOOD TEMPLARS CLOSE SESSIONS

Grand Lodge of Order Meets at Vallejo and Elects Officers.

VALLEJO, Oct. 20.—The Grand Lodge of Good Templars, which has been holding its 53d annual convention here, closed its sessions last night, following the election of the following officers:

G. T. C. T., C. R. Burger of Pasadena; G. V. T., Miss Juliet Williams of Vallejo; G. C., Rev. F. A. Scarver of Oakland; G. S., T. D. Kanouse of Los Angeles; G. T., W. P. Netherton of Santa Cruz; S. J. W., Mrs. M. E. Andrews of Stockton; G. V. C., Miss Myrtle B. Shaw of Pasadena.

Delegates to the National Grand lodge at St. Paul, A. L. Johnston, Carl H. Heinke, J. H. Robbins, Robert Ingram, Mrs. E. M. Whitcomb and M. S. Anthony.

It was decided to hold the next grand lodge session in San Francisco after a strenuous contest in which Petaluma played the leading part.

One of the features of the closing day here was the visit yesterday afternoon by the delegates to the Good Templars' orphan home near this city, where luncheon was served, after which a program was presented by the children.

The bridegroom is a Portland man, while the bride is well-known in this city, where she has a wide number of friends.

The wedding was a quiet one, solemnized in the presence of the relatives and a few of the closest friends.

The young couple left last night on their honeymoon, which they will spend traveling through the northwest. They will make their future home in San Francisco, where the bride's friends will entertain her.

MARINE REPORTER DIES IN BERKELEY

Frederick Bennett, Popular San Francisco News Writer, Reports Off.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Frederick Bennett, marine reporter for the Examiner, and one of the familiar figures among the newspaper men of San Francisco, died last night at his home, 3000 Grove street, Berkeley.

Bennett, who was 45 years old, suffered a stroke of apoplexy last October. Partial paralysis followed, and he had been lingering on the brink of death for several weeks.

He was survived by his wife and three children.

An admitted expert in his line, of quiet voice and the most likable of manners, Bennett had an extensive acquaintance in marine circles.

He knew most of the masters and members of the crews of the ships that put into San Francisco from the seven seas, and, besides his daily newspaper work, he had written extensively for magazines and other periodicals on matters dealing with marine life. His knowledge of this life was reflected in all his work, the worth of which was familiar to every person in San Francisco competent to pass judgment on it.

HAD GRAPHIC STYLE.

Bennett loved the sea and the men who sailed it, and in an unassuming, graphic style he could write the news of ships with distinctive conviction to the big audience of readers that he daily addressed.

Bennett was born in Denver, Colorado, and came to California in 1887 with his parents. In the same year he became associated with the staff of the Daily News of San Diego.

A year later he went to Ensenada and joined the staff of the Lower California, which he became city editor of the San Diego Union, and in 1900 he became the marine reporter for the San Francisco Chronicle.

HAD MANY FRIENDS.

Bennett joined the staff of the Examiner in 1907 as marine reporter. He had by that time an extensive acquaintance in shipping circles and was regarded as one of the best informed men in his line on the Pacific coast. To walk with him along the San Francisco waterfront from Meigs wharf to China Basin was an excursion that meant a hundred or more interruptions from men of the sea, who would stop to shake his hand or nod a salute in passing.

Since he was stricken with his unexpected illness last year the telephone of his home in Berkeley had been kept busy with daily inquiries from the waterfront on this side of the bay. From steamship magnates to captains, and from captains to stevedores and longshoremen, everybody appeared to be interested in "Fred Bennett," as he was familiarly known to the people who were accustomed to meet him in the course of his day's work.

TAFT RE-ENTERS WYOMING TODAY

Inspection of Ft. McKenzie and Speech On Program at Sheridan.

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Oct. 20.—President Taft and party re-entered Wyoming today. He was met here by United States Senator Warren and Congressman Mondell, who will escort him through the remainder of the state. The local program includes an inspection of Fort McKenzie and a speech at the city hall.

Although today marks the end of five weeks of traveling, the President still has several thousand additional miles to cover before leaving Pittsburgh on his supplemental trip, details of which were announced last night.

Secretary Hilles and others close to the President are deeply interested in the reception being planned for Taft in South Dakota, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

In the reception line on the station platform here when the Taft train came in was "Curley," the Crow scout, who is supposed to have been the only man with General Custer to escape in the Little Big Horn fight.

"Curley" reported the news of the massacre of Custer's troops. Taft shook hands with him.

Clergyman's Son Cured of Tuberculosis

Consumption is a flattering disease and the sufferer is filled with bright hopes of improvement. Call it your own dread name—and then—take Eckman's Alterative, because it is effective in Tuberculosis. No one need doubt about it—there is plenty of evidence from live witnesses. Investigate the following:

"Gentlemen: Prior to Feb., 1908, I was located in Rochester, N. Y., suffering with La Grippe, which developed into Tuberculosis. My physician gave me one month to live. I was having terrible night sweats and mid-day chills and losing flesh rapidly, having gone from 155 to 125 lbs. I coughed and raised copious sputum and became so weak that walking a few feet exhausted me. On my return home my regular physician gave me little encouragement. My father, who is a clergyman, heard of Eckman's Alterative and induced me to take it. The night sweats and chills disappeared, my cough became easier and gradually diminished and in a few days I developed an appetite. In less than a month I am now in perfect health, back to 155 lbs. I feel certain that I owe my life to Eckman's Alterative."

(Signed) E. H. COWLES.

"Gentlemen: I cannot find words to express my appreciation of what your remedy has done for my son. It changed despair into hope within two weeks after he began taking it, and without any doubt in my mind, it saved his life."

(Signed) PASTOR FRESHFORD Church, Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in rebuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by the Eckman Drug Co. and other leading druggists. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.

STRIKE THREATENED ON ROCK ISLAND SYSTEM

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 20.—Labor leaders here announced today that the five allied crafts of shopmen now on strike along the Harriman railroads are preparing to strike on the Rock Island system. A strike vote is being taken by the members of the various crafts of the federation, according to an announcement. The proposed strike would add between five and ten thousand men to the number already out.

It is said in labor circles that other roads are likely to be involved in the strike before it is settled.

The trouble on the Rock Island system is not the same as the Harriman trouble. J. A. Franklin, president of the Boilermakers' Union, said today: "There is a question of wage increase involved in the Rock Island trouble. The federation is interested in the same as in the present strike, but it is incorrect to say that the Rock Island men are striking from sympathy."

Franklin said the wage question involved a sliding scale and was so complicated that it would be hard to say just how much increase is being asked at this time.

MILLER & LUX LOSERS.

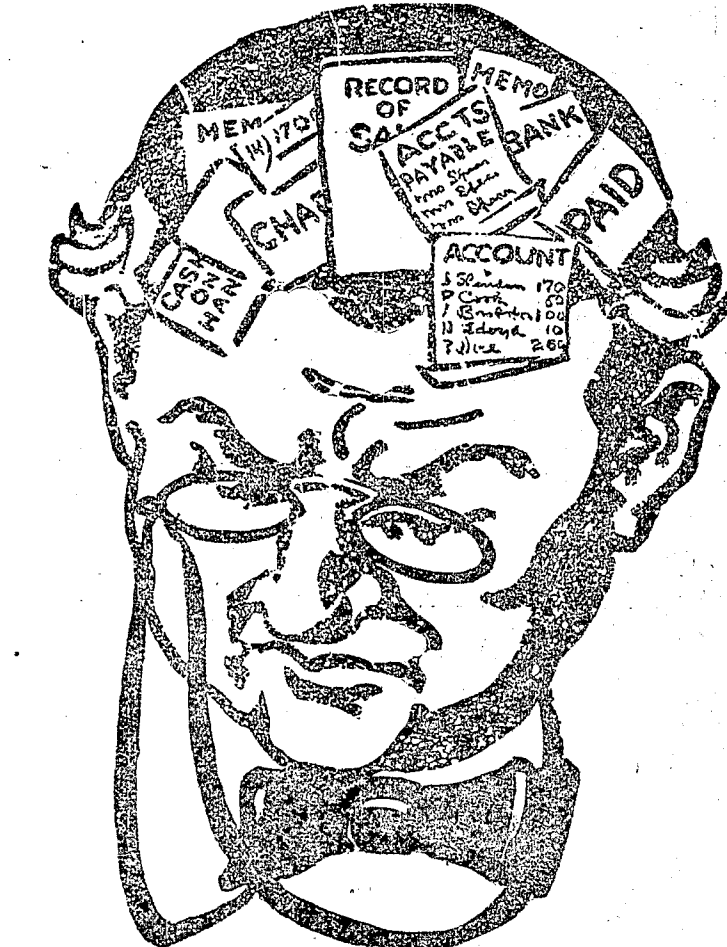

NEWMAN, Oct. 20.—Miller & Lux suffered a heavy loss Wednesday night in the destruction by fire of their large lumber yard at the new town of Gustine, just south of here. The fire presumably was started by tramp campers. The loss is estimated at $25,000, probably covered by insurance. The Southern Pacific depot was scorched and glass broken, but the building was saved.

J. PIERPONT MORGAN HAS PERSONAL TAX REDUCED

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—J. P. Morgan appeared at the department of taxes yesterday to swear off a portion of his personal taxes. Mr. Morgan had registered enough to reduce his assessment of $300,000 to $550,000. It was shown by Mr. Morgan that he could be held only for the latter amount.

Last year Mr. Morgan's assessment was for $400,000.

Rejoicing because he had obtained a job after being out of work for six months, William Connelly, yesterday appointed guardian of the peace and special officer and watchman on the estuary quay wall along First street, last night went out to celebrate and is alleged to have visited so many of the joy-drink parlors that he created a small riot when he tried to go home. Upon entering a West Eighth street car, Connelly got into an altercation with the conductor and motorman, and a fight ensued in which Connelly was thrown into the street.

A Treat for the Children

Trained Cats, Dogs, Rabbits and Pigeons in a clever act at the Bell Theater.

Bring the kiddies tomorrow to see this act, for it will be worth much to them to see how wonderfully clever the little animals have been trained in their cunning tricks. There is, as almost everyone knows, a science in training dogs and cats, but when it comes to training rabbits and pigeons that's quite a different matter, because of the usual indifference of this particular species of animals. Prof. Klutzing declared it took just three years to prepare his animals for

UNPAID IMPERIAL TROOPS THREATEN TO MUTINY
Innocent Kinfolk of Rebels to Be Slaughtered in Order to Blot Out Names if Uprising Is Crushed

of the rebels at Hankow is reported to be exemplary. Martial law is being enforced.

Today's advice of rebel successes at Hankow caused great jubilation among the Chinese here. Previously they had been downcast.

The run on the banks has stopped, but the native banks are unable to pay their outstanding checks and business is at a standstill. Otherwise the situation here is quiet.

PREDIOTS SLAUGHTER.

The venerable North China Daily News, anticipating an ultimate imperial victory, in an editorial today, recalling the awful fate which traditionally awaits rebels in China with the slaughter of innocent kinfolk with the object of blotting out tainted names, says that the powers are not intervening because of self-interest, adding:

"The ringleaders undoubtedly must die, but Yuan Shi Kai, arriving with well filled money bags and imperial pardons ready for signature, is offering mercy to those who have been coerced into participation in the revolt. 'The events of the past weeks must lead to a genuine redress of grievances. China should remember the starving multitudes beggared by the Yang Tse floods. Those with whom the rebels had been able to plead fought and died.'"

Pekin Hears of Rebel Successes

PEKING, Oct. 20.—Fears which had prevailed here since yesterday were confirmed last night by an Associated Press dispatch from Hankow which stated that the rebels were winning.

The message was sent from Hankow early yesterday. It was carried by a messenger to the nearest open wire and received here this evening. Up to 6 o'clock tonight the government and the foreign legations were in the dark as to developments in the south. The officials claimed that the absence of news was due to the fact that the minister of war, General Yin Tichang, was holding the telegraph lines and was not allowing any but his own messages to be handled.

TROOPS ORGANIZED.

They stated that General Yin Tichang had completed the organization of his forces and was rapidly pushing forward his troops, meanwhile contenting himself with reporting military details without furnishing further news of Wednesday's fight.

It was explained that the concentration of two imperial divisions had been completed last night at Kwangshua on the Peking and Hankow railroad, seventy miles north of Hankow. It was understood that General Yin Tichang, the commander-in-chief, had reached Kwangshua. Official assurances also were given that, although the situation here has been recently improved, the outlook was now much improved, and the ultimate triumph of the government was certain.

A rumor was current that the rebels had cut the railroad behind imperial troops and had captured Siao-kan, thirty miles north of Hankow.

REBELS HOLD TUNNEL.

Another native report was that the rebels held the railway tunnel at Sin Yang Chow, in the southern part of Honan province, and about 100 miles north of Hankow.

Consular dispatches from Yun Nan report persistent rumors of disaffection among the imperial soldiers. Both the modern troops and the local regiments threaten to mutiny because they have not been paid and refuse to march against the rebels in Sze Chuen. The viceroy is said to have withdrawn the ammunition from the troops and to have fortified his yamen.

MISSIONARIES WARNED.

The French consul at Yunnan received a letter signed "War Minister of the Revolutionists," recommending that foreigners leave the country while there was yet time. In consequence the missionaries have been warned by couriers and are preparing to leave.

A Mohammedan rebellion is reported in Kan Su, the scene of the Mohammedan revolt in 1853-75. The belief is strong here that a serious defeat of the government forces, as seems probable from tonight's dispatch from Hankow, would have such an effect on the country generally that it would fall ripe into the hands of the revolutionists.

The legations today sent a strong joint protest to the government against the prohibition of cipher dispatches, which is completely dislocating trade and threatens to upset the money market.

Paper Currency of China is Discredited

HONG KONG, China, Oct. 20.—The foreign banks continue large shipments of silver, including British dollars, to North China, owing to the fact that Chinese paper currency is being discredited. The market is practically completely of specie. The board of posts and communications has instructed the Chinese telegraph company to accept cablegrams in plain language only and not to transmit cipher messages.

Irrigation District Bonds.

It is unfortunate that State Controller Nye should refuse to accept the bonds of irrigation districts as security for State money loaned to banks, but because the situation is unfortunate does not prove the Controller is wrong. State money is loaned to banks by authority granted in the State constitution, which specifies the several kinds of securities that may be accepted. Controller Nye says the act of the Legislature, approved March 10th, 1911, making irrigation district bonds acceptable for loans of State, county, municipal and school district money is in conflict with the constitution or of such doubtful validity as to warrant him in declining to obey it.

With the Superintendent of Banks the case is different if we are correctly informed. Mr. Williams, according to our understanding, refuses to let the State banks invest in irrigation district bonds, or at least to hold them in reserve funds. This refusal not only deprives the irrigation districts of their natural market for bonds, or at least to hold them in reserve funds. This refusal not the position, virtually, that irrigation district bonds are of doubtful value and validity.

That is not the position of Controller Nye. He does not discredit the value or validity of irrigation district bonds, but questions the validity of the law making them acceptable as security for public money loaned by special authorization of the State constitution. That authorization recites the classes of securities which may be accepted as collateral, and the Controller says irrigation bonds are not included in the list. If they are not, the Legislature had no power to include them since the constitution cannot be amended by act of the Legislature. The Controller simply doubts his authority, the Superintendent of Banks rejects the security because of its quality. With the first it is a question of law, with the second it is a question of discretion.

Section 5 of the irrigation bond act passed by the last Legislature reads as follows:

"All bonds issued in compliance with the requirements of this act, and all bonds that heretofore have been voted or authorized by irrigation districts organized or existing under the act entitled 'An act to provide for the organization and government of irrigation districts and to provide for the acquisition and construction thereby of works for the irrigation of the lands embraced within such districts and also to provide for the distribution of water for irrigation purposes,' approved March 31, 1897, or the acts amendatory or supplemental thereto, provided that such districts are now actually engaged in the distribution of water and are not in default in the payment of interest upon any bonds, shall be legal investments for all trust funds, and for the funds of all insurance companies, banks, banking institutions, trust companies and for the State school funds, and whenever any money or funds may by law be invested in bonds of cities, counties, counties, school districts, or municipalities in the State of California such money or funds may be invested in the said bonds of irrigation districts, and whenever such bonds of cities, counties, counties, school districts or municipalities may by any law now or hereafter enacted be deposited as security for any money or deposits or for the performance of any act, bonds of irrigation districts under the limitations in this act provided, may be (so) used or deposited."

This is clear enough for anybody. But the question at issue is: does it conflict with the constitution or is it virtually an amendment to that instrument? This question is wholly apart from the value of the bonds or their validity. However, that question does not arise in the matter of bank investments. The issue with the banks is not legality of authorization, but the value of irrigation district bonds as investment and security. If the Superintendent of Banks frowns upon them the banks will not take them.

In a sense irrigation district bonds are discredited in the money market because the State makes (or the State Controller thinks it does) an invidious distinction against them. If the State refuses to accept them as security for loans of public money, it is quite natural that private individuals should be suspicious of them. If the Superintendent of Banks says they are not a safe investment for funds to secure deposits, irrigation bonds become doubly discredited.

Now irrigation district bonds are either good or not good. All districts are organized and bonded under the same law, but each district is a case by itself, just as each city, county or school district is a case by itself. Irrigation district bonds have been in disfavor with banks and financiers because several districts organized many years ago under the "Wright" act failed. But the weak spots in the irrigation district law were cured by the passage of the "Bridgeford" act in 1897. As the law authorizing the creation and bonding of irrigation districts now stands, irrigation district bonds are a perfectly safe investment—as safe as county, municipal and school district bonds. The only question to be resolved when they are offered for sale is the validity of the proceedings of which they are the outcome. Of course the law must be followed in every particular, and if it be followed the bonds are as safe an investment as can be found.

The point raised by Controller Nye should be adjudicated in some way at the earliest practicable moment, and if found to be well taken the Constitution should be amended. If it be true that the Superintendent of Banks has put irrigation district bonds under ban, he should lift the interdiction. The State and its officers should not deliberately discredit bonds issued by public development enterprises in accordance with law. It is a contradiction for the law to authorize irrigation districts to issue bonds and then forbid public funds to be invested in or loaned on them. This contradiction is holding back the development of the State. It places an unjust and unnecessary burden on the agricultural industry which has formed its greatest stimulus in irrigation, and the intensive system of cultivation, which is the concomitant and resultant of irrigation.

A few years ago the planters of the South were sighing for "ten cent cotton." To their minds the conditions would be ideal when cotton could be sold at the nearest point for ten cents a pound. Well, cotton went to ten cents, then to twelve and last year was sold at the initial shipping points at fifteen cents a pound. This year it went back to ten cents. It is now selling below that figure, and the planters are complaining of low prices. Ten years ago they would have been delighted to get the price that cotton is now bringing. The crop this year is the largest on record, hence the cotton States will be enormously enriched even though the era of fancy prices has passed.

The wits have railed at the hobble skirt and the harem skirt, but they will really have something to talk about if hoop skirts should again come in fashion. Of all the atrocities of female dress, the balloon skirt of sixty years ago was the worst. It was the limit, we might well say. Now society is threatened with this monstrosity again, which proves that feminine fashion is just one thing after another.

COMING TO LIFE

— LOS ANGELES TIMES.

Queer Railway Freight Rates.

Galveston is the second largest exporting port in the United States, but its import business is comparatively insignificant. An enormous traffic flows outward, but very little flows inward. A study of the freight rates of the railroads terminating at Galveston and comparing them with the rates charged by the railroads terminating at such North Atlantic ports as Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore will explain why.

The rates on products seeking tidewater at Galveston are reasonable enough, hence Galveston is the outlet for a vast producing territory covering half a dozen States. But the rates on return freight, i. e. goods and manufactures consigned to points in the interior are absurdly high. It costs about three times as much to ship a box of shoes from Galveston to Wichita as it does to ship a barrel of flour from Wichita to Galveston. In consequence the merchants of Wichita bring their goods from New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore and send their wheat, corn, bacon, etc., to Galveston. It is 1500 miles from Wichita to New York and only 700 miles from Wichita to Galveston, but it is cheaper to bring goods the longer distance from New York because of the higher rates charged by the railroads terminating at Galveston.

The railway managers excuse the high rates from Galveston to interior points on the ground that the light traffic compels them to charge high freight rates. So they haul empty cars from the seaboard, while the eastern lines are bringing in the goods that supply their territory.

But it is easy to show that the excuse is insincere and inadmissible. The traffic is light because the rates are so high. Apparently the rates are purposely made high to repel traffic. If the rates from Galveston were cut in two the volume of traffic would be promptly swelled to many times its present proportions. Instead of hauling empty cars at a loss the railroads would be hauling loaded ones at a profit. They would be doing a both-ways business instead of a one-way business.

But in that case the eastern lines would lose a lot of business that they have now. Also much of the import trade which passes through the North Atlantic ports would shift to Galveston and New Orleans. The rates on the lines running out of Galveston are made for the benefit of the eastern trunk lines and the eastern importers. The heavy export business must follow the shortest route to the sea, but by manipulating rates on a false basis trade can be made to follow circuitous routes and center in places where it would not go if allowed to seek natural and shorter avenues.

It seems not to have occurred to anyone that when women are given the franchise political divisions might occur along sex lines. But that is what is happening in Salt Lake City, if the dispatches tell the truth. The women there are organizing to put a woman's ticket in the field, or, in other words, to establish a government of women by women. At first glance this seems absurd, but it is not so absurd when examined carefully. Of course it is unlikely that the sexes will divide politically, but anything that is possible may come to pass. The most improbable things occur in politics. In a sex division the men would have the worst of it because they are outnumbered by the women. In the Pacific States women do not numerically preponderate, but they do in all the North Atlantic States. Women do not have the ballot in New England, but if they had and should line up together they would grab political control of that section of the Union.

The "Hand Kiss."

To American ears it sounds like the name of still another musical comedy from Vienna, but in reality it is a literal translation of an expression found in several continental languages describing a graceful act of homage paid by men to women. It has continued in use through hundreds of years in Austria, Hungary, Germany, Italy and Spain. It fell into disuse in France some years ago, and it is in that country that there has arisen a difference of opinion over the wisdom of its revival. Its reintroduction, say its champions, will inevitably bring about an improvement in French manners, which have notoriously deteriorated of late. A man who formally and respectfully kisses his hostess' hand will not immediately afterward lapse into the sans-gene of an attitude and conversation, into the familiarity customary today. The opponents of la baise-main, on the other hand, maintain that it would be ridiculous without the stateliness and grace of brocade, powder and patches, of laced coats, knee breeches, periwigs and court swords, without the atmosphere of the old regime. At a garden fete in the days of the glory of Versailles, you! But at an auto meet, no!

There is much in this argument, yet in other continental countries the "hand kiss" has survived the universal deterioration of manners. In Northern Germany the ceremony is performed with a stiff literalness that characterizes all social customs there. The Southern German, the Austrian and the Hungarian have reduced it to a stereotyped phrase as they bow over a woman's hand. "I kiss your hand," they say, but only rarely do so, which is, no doubt, the best way of all. In Italy it is a graceful, barely perceptible contact, like the momentary alight on a flower of a butterfly on the wing. The Spaniards have turned it into a meaningless phrase in signing their letters, to men and women alike.—New York Tribune.

Men and Women

The carriage of Queen Victoria of Spain was checked for a moment by the crowded street, and she was at once the target for all eyes as she sat waiting quietly. Wishing to examine more closely the beautifully embroidered garment which the queen was wearing, an American lady raised impulsively an opera glass which she was carrying and scanned the queen closely, although only a few feet apart. Suddenly to her dismay she was brought to the realization of her extreme rudeness by meeting the queen's eyes full in the glass—eyes that spoke the rebuke plainly, although the steady look was both kind and patient.

Instantly the glass was lowered and with scarlet cheeks the lady's face expressed an unmistakable apology, as Queen Victoria raised a mildly reproving forefinger and shook her head slightly with a little smile as the carriage moved on.—Youth's Companion.

There's nothing a man will lie about more foolishly than how he really wasn't asleep in his armchair when he was snoring in the plaster off the ceiling.—New York Press.

THE AGE FOR LEARNING

Enthusiasts for learning nowadays even despise the popular notion that formal school training is an advantage to be enjoyed exclusively by youths. In the larger cities thousands of wage-earning men and women are enrolling in night schools. Mrs. Amy Winslip had such early advantages as that of being a personal friend of Abraham Lincoln, but she found little time for literary researches until about five years ago. The fall enrollment will find her 82 and a junior in the University of Wisconsin. Mrs. Ameris Woodward Truesdell, who is 80, was a student in the University of California summer school. Though an alumna of Stanford and the author of several books, the dispatches explained that she felt like polishing up a little in English poetry. H. R. Williams of Cape Girardeau county, Missouri, though about 50, showed admirable spirit when he entered the University of Missouri's School of Agriculture because "his brother Sam was getting more bushels to the acre in an adjacent farm." In Nevada, George A. Bartlett, 41, once a Congressman, has enrolled for the coming term to study general chemistry, mineralogy and mining. He has been spoken of as a candidate for governor. In 1914, so we scarcely would dare to commend him without further investigation. "I know how men work—I've worked myself for thirty years," a Princeton freshman, aged 51, told reporters last winter. "Now I want to know how nature works. I've bought a farm outside of Princeton, and have enrolled in the university, and I'm going to be both a farmer and a student—I hope—until I'm 91 years old." This student, whose name is Parker, is a member of a rich construction firm, which built, among other things, one of the bridges across the East river. He specializes now in biology. There are many mishaps more serious than that of missing formal training altogether.—Colliers.

THE CROP THAT NEVER FAILS. Though crops may fail from year to year And leave us very sad, There is one fruit, it doth appear That's always to be had. In apples, peaches, and in pears A shortage may be found; But constantly in life's affairs The lemon's passed around. It greets the simple, sighing swain. It scares the soldier bold. It bids the statesman oft complain And in finance 'tis said. Though drought and bug may prowl about, This sturdy fruit prevails: 'Tis always freely passed about—The lemon never fails.—Washington Post.

20 YEARS AGO IN OAKLAND

Mayor Chapman this morning signed the bills for work on the boulevard, and they were returned to the city hall for Auditor Snow to draw the warrants. The Trinity Episcopal mission has secured for the site of its church the Steele property at the southwest corner of Caledonia and Telegraph avenues. A very pretty wedding took place in East Oakland last evening at the residence of Mrs. L. A. Kennedy on Twentieth street, where her daughter, Miss Mae Kennedy, became the wife of H. L. Adams, the well known attorney. A very interesting and exciting handball tournament has been in progress for several days past at the courts of the Pastime Tennis Club. The tournament began last Saturday morning and concluded at 6 o'clock last evening. Last night the council ordered the laying of miles of cement sidewalks, most of it in the outlying districts. The grand charity ball to be held at Cavalry hall Friday evening, October 30, will be under the auspices of the ladies of the Fabiola Hospital Association. Next Friday night the St. Andrew's Society and Clan Macdonald of Glencoe, No. 79, Order of Scottish Clans of Oakland, will give a grand Halloween entertainment at the Oakland theater.

To Look the Part

and not be overdressed is an art which we have made a careful study of. There is a certain dignity of dress which every man in business should have, and our constantly increasing trade shows us that we must have the "know how" of the tailoring business.

WOMEN DRINK? NOT TO EXCESS, SAYS MRS. MOORE

Gamble? Never for More Than One Cent a Point in Bridge.

SMOKE CIGARETTES? WELL, SOME DO NOT

San Mateo Society Matron Brands as False Charges Made by Husband.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—"Really, now, do you think I look to be 46 years old?"

Ordinarily, that would not be a fair question for a woman to put up to a man. But Mrs. Lillian Moore, society matron of San Mateo, had an unusually good reason for asking the question and demanding an honest answer.

Mrs. Moore's husband, John J. Moore, whom she is suing for divorce, had publicly declared that his wife was 46 years old, and that she had identified herself with a social set whose members spent most of their time at gambling, cocktail drinking and cigarette smoking.

Picture a smooth, well-rounded, smiling face looking out from under a big, drooping black hat; a pair of dancing eyes, and a set of even, pearly teeth; a graceful form, set into a stylish suit of gray checks; an air of youth and vitality around and about it all.

PICTURE THIS—THEN ASK.

Picture this, and then look over the list of probable answers to that luring question.

"Really, now, do you think I look to be 46 years old?"

Honest and true, there was no way but of it. No man, not even a woman-fater, could have looked upon Mrs. Moore when she asked that question and honestly have given any other answer than that she did not look to be a day over 26.

MEETS WITH ATTORNEY.

Mrs. Moore was seated in the private office of her lawyer, Attorney William H. Jordan, when she put the question and got the answer.

She and her attorney had been discussing the ways and means of proving the allegations of cruelty and other offenses that Mrs. Moore had incorporated in her complaint against her husband; and they had been talking also of the probability of Moore making good on his expressed intention to file a cross-complaint against his wife.

"I would much prefer not to enter into a public discussion of anything my husband has said concerning me," said Mrs. Moore. "I do not seek it now. I will not say anything touching the evidence that will be produced upon the trial of my suit. But I can very easily dispose of some of the ridiculously false statements that Mr. Moore has made."

"AS MUCH TRUTH."

"There is about as much truth in any of those statements as is contained in the one that I am 46 years old."

"That awful social set that has given Mr. Moore so much concern is no social set at all. During the past few years, I practically have withdrawn myself from formal social functions. I have repeatedly declined invitations, and have remained at home. The reason for this is well known to my more intimate friends. They know, without my saying it, that the unhappy domestic conditions under which I suffered made it necessary for me to abandon social activities."

"My vaulting ambition to be a social leader, as Mr. Moore has termed it, began and ended with a few card games of bridge with a number of women whom I have known for fifteen or twenty years."

"HEAVY GAMBLING? NO."

"Was there any heavy gambling at those games of bridge?" was asked. "Well," replied Mrs. Moore, "if you can call a quarter-of-a-cent a point heavy gambling, then there was heavy gambling. On one occasion I was playing bridge with a few immensely wealthy women, and they refused to play for less than a one-cent point. That was the heaviest gambling I ever did."

"And," added Mrs. Moore, "there is fully as much truth in my husband's statement concerning excessive drinking and smoking among the women of my acquaintance. I do not know any women who either drink or smoke to excess. I myself am not addicted to either habit."

"I will admit that I smoke a cigarette once in a few months. But now many women who the wife of a doctor or a lawyer, and the women that I know are not excessive drinkers. It is not the thing to drink cocktails during the afternoon. Some of the women may take a glass of champagne with their dinner, but that is the extent of their drinking."

BRANDS FALSE.

"Mr. Moore's statement that he has the custody of my 12-year-old daughter," continued Mrs. Moore, "is entirely false. The child is with me at my home in San Mateo, and she has been there all the time. Mr. Moore's expressed intention for the wife of the child was hardly in keeping with the many other public statements coming from him, all of them calculated to expose the child to injury."

"It is my purpose to keep my child informed of all the facts in this case. She is going to be a part of the case. She already has read what Mr. Moore has said. She is only a little girl, but she knows enough of our home life to enable her to detect the falsity of the statements made by Mr. Moore."

"Why, Mommy," she explained, as she read Mr. Moore's published statements, "he certainly couldn't have said anything like this! It isn't true at all."

FANCY FOWL ARE TO BE EXHIBITED

Big Poultry and Pigeon Show Opens in Oakland On November 21.

The Alameda County Poultry Association will hold its eight annual exhibition in Oakland November 21 to 27. The coming show will eclipse all former exhibitions, as inquiries are being made by the hundred for the annual premium list. This booklet contains all the classifications and includes a list of the prizes offered, with rules and regulations.

The association this year offers handsome useful trophies such as solid silverware, high-grade cut-glass, hammered brass and similar articles. This will be a decided change from former years. Specialty judging will be a feature, as each judge employed is an expert in the classes he has been assigned. The awards will be placed Wash. R. J. Venn of Fresno and L. N. Cobbleick of Oakland. With the three judges all awards will be placed before the end of the first day. Oakland has proven a great show place where big sales are always made and the exhibition is looked forward to with interest by the experienced breeders.

The exhibition hall is an ideal one, being located at 1250 Webster street, right in the business district, and containing 12,700 square feet, giving ample room for the combined exhibitions of the Alameda County Poultry Association and the California Pigeon Club, thereby giving the public two shows for the price of one. The officers of the poultry association who will have charge are: W. E. Gibson, president; James Stansfield, vice-president; C. E. Ross, superintendent, and W. T. Frost, secretary. Copies of the thirty-two page premium list will be mailed upon request by the secretary. All persons owning poultry are invited to exhibit. Handsome ribbons in addition to the trophies, cash prizes and cups will be awarded. Competition open to the world. The novice has not been overlooked, as special ribbons and prizes will be awarded to those exhibiting for the first time.

COPPER STOCKS DOMINATE CALL

Issues Become Feature of the Trading After Inactivity of Months.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Trading in the metal stocks dominated the movement of the stock market during the morning. Transactions in U. S. Steel again reached heavy proportions, and the copper stocks, after remaining comparatively inactive for months, once more took a prominent position. Extensive selling, which depressed the market in the early trading, was largely due to realizing, following yesterday's abrupt rise, although the steel shares were subjected to pressure from the bears. The tone of speculation visibly improved in the second hour and there was a smart advance. The movement had its inception in the copper group, spread to U. S. Steel and ultimately gathered in the active railroads.

Amalgamated Copper, Utah Copper and Tennessee Copper sold 1 to 1½ above yesterday's closing and American Smelting ½ after it had rallied from 5½ to 6. U. S. Steel was brought in on more amounts and showed more activity in the rise to 90½ than in the previous decline to 89½. One block of 7500 shares changed hands at the top figure and there were many individual transactions of thousands of shares.

Speculative sentiment was perplexed by the varied movements of this stock and the opinion gained currency that a large pool was manipulating it. Bonds were irregular.

FIVE CHALLENGES AWAITING DECISION OF THE COURT IN THE M'NAMARA CASE

Implied Bias Given as Reason for State's Opposition to Selection of Latest Talesman Examined in South tempted demonstration that a man who believed that gas destroyed the Los Angeles Times building still might be unprejudiced as to whether or not James B. McNamara is guilty of causing the death of Charles Taggart, a machinist, who lost his life in the Times disaster.

"You believe the building was blown up by gas?" he asked.

"Yes," said Adams.

"But you have no opinion as to whether the defendant by breaking a gas main, or otherwise, caused the building to be filled by gas?"

"No," said the talesman.

"The state takes the position that belief in the gas theory is virtually belief in the innocence of the defendant."

A few minutes later the state also charged Talesman A. McIntosh because of his objection to the death penalty on circumstantial evidence. This challenge also was resisted by the defense. Implied bias was the formal ground of the challenge.

EXPLAINS EVIDENCE.

Desert craft, known more or less by nearly every man in the courtroom, was drawn upon by Attorney Darrow to explain circumstances. The cunning art of trailing men across great wastes, with only the slenderest threads of clues, was cited by Darrow, and common frontier tragedies were touched upon.

"If you knew a man had a revolver of unusual calibre and another man were found dead with a bullet of that calibre in him, would you consider that circumstantial evidence?" he asked Talesman McIntosh.

"Yes."

"Or, if you found a horse trail which had three good shoes and one bad shoe and knew of a horse with three good shoes and a half shoe?"

"Yes."

"Or, the trail of a man showing only one heel mark and if you knew of a man who had lost one boot?"

"Yes."

PROGRESS MADE.

Though the empanelling of a jury to try the case of James B. McNamara, indicted for murders resulting from the explosion of the Times building, still is a matter of weeks, definite progress had been made when court opened today toward defining the issues, principal and collateral, along which the battle will be fought.

After having concluded its examination for cause among eleven of the talesmen, the court, reserving still, with the court's permission, the right to interrogate further H. E. Quackenbush "about matters yet being investigated," the defense had emphasized by three challenges for cause that it would consider as hostile talesmen those who might be prejudiced against labor unions and their methods of operation, but those who firmly believed dynamite destroyed the Times building. The court is not expected to render its decision on these challenges until the state has had its opportunity to examine talesmen for cause. The prosecution therefore continued today its examination of T. W. Adams, and it was apparent by the line of questions too that the state deems it essential that no talesman should serve who say a gas explosion caused the Times disaster.

The state, furthermore, in its examination of Adams has revealed that it will consider unacceptable those talesmen in whose minds Socialist views are imbedded and who have been reading those Socialist newspapers or periodicals which champion the case of the McNamaras, depicting it as a class struggle.

RESIST QUESTIONING.

The state has vigorously resisted the questions of Clarence S. Darrow, chief counsel for the defense, in which he sought to learn talesmen's views on whether or not labor unions, as conducted, were a menace to society, and has been opposing the argument of the defense that labor unions are directly involved in the case by asserting that the main issue is whether or not the defendant wrecked the Times building, regardless of his labor affiliations. But in its examination of talesmen the state, on the other hand, expects to find men who are prejudiced in favor of labor unions and likewise maintain that gas caused the explosion.

The defense in taking the view that a man who believes the building was destroyed by dynamite thereby believes the defendant guilty and has prejudged the case, has attempted to hold the prosecution to an analogous arrangement by offering not to resist challenges against talesmen who firmly believe the building was blown up by gas. The state, however, is unwilling to accept the situation as exactly analogous.

District Attorney Fredericks reiterated today that while talesmen may have a fixed opinion that dynamite wrecked the Times building, he may not at the same time believe the defendant committed the crime or that there has been a crime committed and therefore he is eligible to receive evidence on the case. The state, on the other hand, the state contends that if a talesman is strongly convinced that gas caused the explosion he unequivocally believes the building was destroyed by accident, that no crime was committed and that he is ineligible to be a talesman in the case.

CODE ON TOP.

On top of these opposing theories as to how far a fixed opinion on the cause of the explosion affects a talesman's ability to give both sides a fair and impartial trial, the state and the defense are traversing an even wider field. While one section would disqualify a man for having a fixed opinion on issues involved, another section declares a talesman eligible if his opinions are based only on public rumors or reading in the public prints and if he can set them aside. On Judge Walter Bordwell, therefore, deprecates the task of ruling on these distinctions in saying whether challenges for cause entered by the defense against George W. McKee, or A. J. Jensen, or reading in the public prints, are to be set aside. McKee and Jensen are against unions and believe dynamite caused the explosion, while Shover believes dynamite placed through the instrumentality of labor unions was the cause.

A ruling on these points will go far toward hastening or delaying the work of getting a jury, for if opposition to labor unions is held to be irrelevant to the case or if opinions holding dynamite as the cause are based upon newspaper reading, as considered as not affecting a talesman's ability to be impartial, the task of securing a jury, it is expected, will be accomplished in a short time. But if the contrary is held forth, many disqualifications are likely, for judging, it is thought many more talesmen will be encountered who have formed opinions as a result of reading in the newspapers and magazines.

PROCEEDING SLOWLY.

The beginning of the state's inquiry into talesmen's qualifications has with in a day dashed somewhat the hope of getting a jury quickly and it is possible that examination for cause by the defense with new talesmen may be on again in a few days. The state discovered, for instance, that after J. W. Roberts had apparently passed both sides on the question of labor unions and the guilt or innocence of the defendant, he was opposed to capital punishment. Talesmen who have similar scruples are expected to be found. Incidentally, the state charged talesmen who may not want to serve, on the jury might suddenly develop opinions or scruples on the subject of capital punishment and disqualify themselves to avoid what they might consider an irksome duty.

It is generally believed in Los Angeles that the trial would last several months and many of the veniremen as well as talesmen who could not get through excuses on preliminary examination, are thought to be anxious to discontinue.

Incidentally, James B. McNamara, accused of blowing up the Times building, is agreeably surprised to find that of the talesmen examined thus far a proportion do not hold him responsible and also have opinions that gas did it.

"I think that people of Los Angeles are fair," he said today, "and it looks as if we will get a jury. I certainly think I've had the best of it so far. Nearly everyone of the talesmen say that they can presume on the state's claim to see that most of them do not believe the dynamite theory."

ADAMS QUESTIONED.

Against T. W. Adams, who admitted yesterday that by reading the Appeal to Reason, a Socialist paper, he had formed the opinion that gas caused the explosion, the prosecution prepared early today to direct more questions to determine whether he would be a competent talesman. Adams, in his examination said that while he had an opinion on the cause of the explosion he had never discussed it even with his neighbors. The state has confronted him with a statement by B. F. Bond, a neighbor of Adams, in which the talesman said that he outlined in conversation the reasons why dynamite could not have caused the explosion, arguing that no big holes were found in the cellar of the building and furnishing other details to defend his theory that gas wrecked the structure.

While declaring he did not remember discussing the subject with Bond, Adams admitted that he often talked with Bond on other subjects; that the statement as read by G. Ray Horton, deputy district attorney, represented his views at the time when the alleged conversation took place and constitutes his opinion on the subject at present.

The state has decided that it will be unnecessary to bring Bond as a witness to impeach Adams, holding that the information is solely for the court to have to enable it to decide on the competency of a talesman. This was the point which the examination had reached when court opened today.

It was expected that during the day a challenge for cause would be lodged by the state against Adams or that a peremptory challenge later would be evoked against him.

BARRED BY FUNERAL.

That any man who attended the joint funeral of the Times victims, where sixteen coffins lay across the stage of a local theater, and heard the Rev. Robert J. Burdette, pastor emeritus of the Temple Baptist church, is not and cannot be a fair and impartial juror, was the position taken today by counsel for the defense. It is said to be unique.

It was announced that where it can be learned that a talesman sat through the afternoon where woman after woman fainted under stress of emotion, feeling induced by the grating soundings and by the eloquence of the speaker, and a dozen professional nurses were on hand to look after them, that talesman will be challenged by the state.

Whether the Rev. Mr. Burdette will be summoned into court to refresh the memories of these men was not stated.

ADAMS ON STAND.

Court convened at 10:10 o'clock and T. W. Adams took the stand for examination.

Adams, in the first place, said G. Ray Horton of the state, "to propose a challenge for cause for implied bias as indicated in the penal code as having a state of mind as well as a conscientious opinion on circumstantial evidence which would preclude his bringing in a verdict of guilty of an offense punishable by death. Also we propose a challenge under that section of the penal code for actual bias by having a state of mind which would prevent him from acting without prejudice to the substantial rights of both parties."

"We resist the challenge," said Attorney Darrow for the defense, and began a cross-examination.

"You don't know the defendant?" asked Darrow.

"No," replied Adams.

"All you know of this case you got from newspapers or general notoriety?"

"Yes."

"You have had the opinion that this was a gas explosion?"

"Yes."

"Have you any opinion as to how gas got into the building?"

"No."

HAS NO OPINION.

"Have you any opinion whether the defendant by destruction of meters or mains let the gas into the building?"

"No."

"You have no idea how it was lighted—by a match, gunpowder or anything else?"

"No."

"The opinion you have had that the destruction of the building and its burning came upon through gas, is it not?"

"Yes."

"You know what circumstantial evidence is?"

"I think I do."

"Have you any objection to circumstantial evidence if it is strong enough to convince your mind?"

"I don't know that."

"Could it be strong enough to convince you?"

"I don't know that."

"But you would consider circumstantial evidence in trying a case?"

"Yes, if along with positive evidence."

"Ever study the subject of circumstantial evidence?"

"No, but I always regarded it as uncertain."

"Have you any idea about circumstantial evidence?"

"No, I don't know as I have."

"Mr. Adams, don't you think circumstantial evidence could be strong enough to convince you of facts?"

"Not alone."

Judge Bordwell said he would take the challenge under consideration.

Talesman A. R. McIntosh then was examined for cause by the prosecution.

"You stated in an answer by the defense that you could give the state a fair trial if you sat on the jury. Is that right?"

"Yes, in one way."

"Is that one way on account of circumstantial evidence?"

"Yes."

The state challenged McIntosh on the same ground as Adams, under the sections of the penal code which covered implied bias because of conscientious scruples against the death penalty.

The defense, in turn, resisted the challenge and asked McIntosh to outline his ideas of circumstantial evidence.

"I would convict no man on circumstantial evidence," insisted McIntosh, with emphasis.

Horton was permitted to add against McIntosh a challenge also for actual bias, and it likewise was formally resisted.

CHIEF WILSON BELIEVES DEPARTMENT IS HURT

Men Are Advanced Temporarily, But Will Have to Pass Examination.

Technical victory was gained by the three station keepers of the Melrose police station in the controversy they have been engaged in with Chief of Police Adelbert Wilson, when the city council this morning acceded to their request that the ordinance giving station keepers the rank and pay of corporals, a raise in both, should be given final passage. The ordinance was passed, Mayor Frank K. Mott being the only one to vote against the ordinance on the ground that it was bad discipline for the department for men under the chief to be doing politics to gain a higher rank.

Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Fred C. Turner announced to the council that in accordance with the ordinance he would appoint the three present station keepers, and that it was bad discipline for the department for men under the chief to be doing politics to gain a higher rank.

The three men who aroused the ire of Chief Wilson by "doing politics" with the old board of freeholders which framed the charter, to have special provision made for them in the charter, are J. E. Murphy, Henry Ernest and Harry Gilbert. They will be temporarily appointed corporals as a temporary appointment, but that as soon as possible an examination would be held under Civil Service rules for the filling of the places, and that the men appointed temporarily would have to compete with all other members of the department eligible to take the examinations.

WOLNER'S LETTER.

The communication from City Attorney Ben F. Woolner, upon which the council based its action this morning, is as follows:

"To the Honorable, the City Council of the City of Oakland.

"Gentlemen: I am advised that your honorable body desires a written opinion of this office in the matter of the application of the so-called station keepers at the Melrose station to receive the rank and pay of corporals as provided under the charter.

"I have already advised you that in my judgment the charter framers had in contemplation caring for these officers, otherwise the word 'station keepers' would not have been used at all in the charter. In view of the fact, however, that none of the men ever received the official designation of station keepers as such by ordinance, but merely by self-imposed designation and acquiescence of their superiors, I do not consider it mandatory upon this council to pass any ordinance giving the rank and pay requested. It is a matter of course which the council may do, if, in its judgment, it seems best."

Board of Control Accuses Him and He Comes Back With Counter Charge.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan, accused by the state board of control, today attempted to "mule" the state in placing an order with the Zellerbach Paper Company for ballot paper for the approaching Los Angeles primary election, issued a long statement in his own defense today. Jordan's explanation of the paper transaction is in part as follows:

"The state board of control has, I regret to say, made a mess of it. They have by failing to approve my rush order for 225 reams of ballot paper, making a total of $621, prevented me from delivering ballot paper for use in the Los Angeles city primary election on October 23, and the Los Angeles city election, December 5, also, for the city election in Sacramento. Because of the difference in cost between this proposed purchase and the amount paid for a like quantity of paper last July, $225, the state board of control has endeavored to have the elections to be held in cities by their refusal to approve my order."

"Today I shall give to seven paper holders specifications I prepared at Sacramento the day before yesterday, and because of the direction of the board of control the time of delivery for paper for the Los Angeles election will have to be fixed so far ahead as will prevent the delivery of paper for the city election of December 5, and the city election of December 12. They have ordered me from discharging certain duties and are responsible for the failure to have ballot paper for use in these elections."

RECEPTION TO OPEN BUREAU

Car Companies' Information Department to Be Inaugurated November 1.

The bureau of information which the Key Route and Oakland Traction Companies established in San Francisco for the purpose of advertising the territory reached by the lines of those railroads is to be formally opened on Wednesday night, November 1, with a "Realty Reception." The bureau, which is located at 687 Market street, San Francisco, has been in operation for some weeks, but has not been completely established as the companies have wished until the present time.

W. A. Lane, manager of the traffic bureau, has informed the Chamber of Commerce, which has an exhibit of Alameda county products on display at the bureau, that it is the intention of the managers to hold several receptions each week for a number of weeks until the traveling and across-the-bay public becomes thoroughly familiar with attractions of the east bay section. Following the opening reception, scheduled particularly to an exploitation of real estate subjects in Alameda and Contra Costa counties, another reception will be given on Thursday night, November 2, which will be a "Transportation Night," when all members of traffic and transportation clubs and railroad officials about the bay will be invited to be present.

The third public affair of the week will be held on Friday, November 3, "Publication and Publicity Night," when the special guests will be the mayors, city councilors, city officials, presidents and secretaries of the Chambers of Commerce and members of the promotion bureau. The members of the chamber of commerce will be invited to be present and participate in the meetings which will follow in the next few weeks.

W. A. Lane, manager of the traffic bureau, has informed the Chamber of Commerce, which has an exhibit of Alameda county products on display at the bureau, that it is the intention of the managers to hold several receptions each week for a number of weeks until the traveling and across-the-bay public becomes thoroughly familiar with attractions of the east bay section. Following the opening reception, scheduled particularly to an exploitation of real estate subjects in Alameda and Contra Costa counties, another reception will be given on Thursday night, November 2, which will be a "Transportation Night," when all members of traffic and transportation clubs and railroad officials about the bay will be invited to be present.

The third public affair of the week will be held on Friday, November 3, "Publication and Publicity Night," when the special guests will be the mayors, city councilors, city officials, presidents and secretaries of the Chambers of Commerce and members of the promotion bureau. The members of the chamber of commerce will be invited to be present and participate in the meetings which will follow in the next few weeks.

AROUSE WILSON'S IRE.

The three men who aroused the ire of Chief Wilson by "doing politics" with the old board of freeholders which framed the charter, to have special provision made for them in the charter, are J. E. Murphy, Henry Ernest and Harry Gilbert. They will be temporarily appointed corporals as a temporary appointment, but that as soon as possible an examination would be held under Civil Service rules for the filling of the places, and that the men appointed temporarily would have to compete with all other members of the department eligible to take the examinations.

WOLNER'S LETTER.

The communication from City Attorney Ben F. Woolner, upon which the council based its action this morning, is as follows:

"To the Honorable, the City Council of the City of Oakland.

"Gentlemen: I am advised that your honorable body desires a written opinion of this office in the matter of the application of the so-called station keepers at the Melrose station to receive the rank and pay of corporals as provided under the charter.

"I have already advised you that in my judgment the charter framers had in contemplation caring for these officers, otherwise the word 'station keepers' would not have been used at all in the charter. In view of the fact, however, that none of the men ever received the official designation of station keepers as such by ordinance, but merely by self-imposed designation and acquiescence of their superiors, I do not consider it mandatory upon this council to pass any ordinance giving the rank and pay requested. It is a matter of course which the council may do, if, in its judgment, it seems best."

Respectfully,
"Signed BEN. F. WOOLNER,
"City Attorney."

JORDAN FOLLOWS THE TRUMP SUIT

Board of Control Accuses Him and He Comes Back With Counter Charge.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan, accused by the state board of control, today attempted to "mule" the state in placing an order with the Zellerbach Paper Company for ballot paper for the approaching Los Angeles primary election, issued a long statement in his own defense today. Jordan's explanation of the paper transaction is in part as follows:

"The state board of control has, I regret to say, made a mess of it. They have by failing to approve my rush order for 225 reams of ballot paper, making a total of $621, prevented me from delivering ballot paper for use in the Los Angeles city primary election on October 23, and the Los Angeles city election, December 5, also, for the city election in Sacramento. Because of the difference in cost between this proposed purchase and the amount paid for a like quantity of paper last July, $225, the state board of control has endeavored to have the elections to be held in cities by their refusal to approve my order."

"Today I shall give to seven paper holders specifications I prepared at Sacramento the day before yesterday, and because of the direction of the board of control the time of delivery for paper for the Los Angeles election will have to be fixed so far ahead as will prevent the delivery of paper for the city election of December 5, and the city election of December 12. They have ordered me from discharging certain duties and are responsible for the failure to have ballot paper for use in these elections."

ALOHA PARLOR OF NATIVE DAUGHTERS THANKS TRIBUNE

MISS GLADYS B. SUNKEL, who is president of Aloha Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West.

For the benefit of the Homeless Children's agency, a charitable institution conducted by the Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West of San Francisco, an excellent list of dances, supplemented with an appropriate musical program, were the features of an interesting function given by Aloha Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West of Oakland in the cause of charity, in Central hall, last evening, when 500 guests participated in the festivities, subscribed generously to the fund being raised for the homeless children by the women of this organization.

The hall, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion with numerous lodge emblems, the national colors and golden bear flags, was crowded to the doors with a vast throng of merry-makers, who kept up the general merriment and fun until a late hour, concluding one of the most successful entertainments of the autumn season.

OBJECT OF SOCIETY.

Maude Smith, chairman of the committee of arrangements, who was largely responsible for the success of the affair of last evening, in speaking of the work being done in the interest of the State's orphan children, said:

"Aloha Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West has taken an active interest in the welfare of the homeless children of the State for many years, and is among the prominent branches of this society in this field of work, having assisted the homeless children's agency of San Francisco on many occasions in the placing of the homeless little ones."

"We have adopted the idea of giving some suitable program of entertainment annually, believing that we will be more readily assisted by the general public when they realize the true merit of this interesting work which is being carried on by us for the future citizens of this great State."

TRIBUNE THANKED.

"That the affair of last evening was a success, was due in great measure to the generous space granted us through the courtesy of THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE, which is quick to appreciate our efforts in promoting the best interests of the State's orphan children, as well as the material progress and prosperity of Oakland and our native State."

"In recognition of the valuable space granted to us through the columns of your valuable paper, and for the kind and courteous treatment accorded us by the members of the editorial staff of THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE, on behalf of Aloha Parlor No. 106, Native Daughters of the Golden West, I desire to express the sincere thanks and best wishes of its entire membership for your past and recent favors which we prize very highly."

The foregoing sentiment is expressive of the high regard and value we cherish for the valuable paper THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE, for the valuable aid given us and we voice the good wishes of Aloha Parlor No. 106, Native Daughters of the Golden West of Oakland for THE TRIBUNE."

NO MURDER CASE SINCE THE famous Emma Le Doux "trunk murder" has caused more comment here than the Astoria affair. Axtell has been in solitary confinement at the county jail for four months. It was June 18 that he shot Sollars, inflicting wounds which resulted in his victim's death a few hours later.

The prosecution has subpoenaed about fifty witnesses for the trial. Assistant District Attorney Rendon estimates the length of the trial at ten days. Some difficulty may be experienced securing a jury. The venire consists of seventy-five men, about twenty of whom are residents of the Lodi section.

LOVELOCK BEER WAR ATTRACTS "WILLIES"

RENO, Nev., Oct. 20.—LoveLOCK, a ranching community, 100 miles east of Reno, is the Mecca of tramps and hoboes, who are flocking in great numbers to that town. The cause of the pilgrimage is a beer war now on between the saloonmen of Lovelock, and as a result the price of schooners has been much reduced by the opposing factions.

On one side of the street it is possible to secure huge steins for 1 cent apiece, and on the opposite side the price is 2½ cents a glass. Jags are cheap, and any person having a dollar in his possession can secure a sufficient quantity of real German joy to keep up a perpetual souze for at least a week.

The beer war was started by two prominent Eastern breweries who are desirous of controlling the sale of the foamy beverage in the district.

SPOKANE LANDMARK DESTROYED BY FIRE

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 20.—The old Falls View hotel, a large frame structure overlooking the Spokane river and falls, was destroyed by fire starting shortly after 1 o'clock this morning. The building was one of the landmarks of the city. Its escape from the flames that destroyed the business center of Spokane in 1889 was one of the marvels of that conflagration. The hotel has in recent years been occupied by a Japanese colony. No lives are known to have been lost. The hotel property was purchased by the North Coast railroad for its entry into this city.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MAY SEND DELEGATES

The Chamber of Commerce has been asked to send delegates to the meeting of the Western Development Association to be held in Pocatello, Idaho, beginning Wednesday, October 25. Wilbur Walker, secretary of the local Merchants' Exchange and a member of the Alameda County General Exposition Commission, is treasurer of the association. Walker is at present in attendance at the Omaha Land Show, where he is in charge of an exhibit of Alameda county products.

WILCOMB PAYS VISIT TO STATE'S INDIANS

Charles P. Wilcomb, curator at the Oakland Public Museum, has returned from a two weeks' Indian antiquity hunt through the counties of Placer, Plumas and Butte. He declares that he had a very successful expedition, and succeeded in adding a great number of the old Indian curiosities to the city's collection. The tribe of Indians roaming the counties are known as the Malin Indians, and although they cover a rather wide area yet their number is very small. Because of this, Wilcomb was unable to make the rounds of the whole tribe, and had to be satisfied with covering but one-third of their territory. He intends to return to the unvisited region as soon as possible as he thinks that he will be able to pick up some specimens of Indian craft in that part of the country.

ONE DOSE MAKES INDIGESTION GO

Heartburn, Gas, Sourness and Other Stomach Misery Vanishes.

If your meals don't fit comfortably, or you feel bloated after eating, and you believe it is the food which fills you; if what little you eat lies like a lump of lead on your stomach; if there is difficulty in breathing after eating, eructations of sour, undigested food and acid, heartburn, brash or a belching of gas, you can make up your mind that you need something to stop food fermentation and cure indigestion.

To make every bite of food you eat aid in the nourishment and strength of your body, you must rid your stomach of poisons, excessive acid and stomach gas, which sours your entire meal—interferes with digestion and causes so many sufferers of Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Bloating, Constipation, Griping, etc. Your case is no different—you are a stomach sufferer, though you may call it by some other name; your real and only trouble is that which you eat does not digest, but quickly ferments and sours, producing almost any unhealthy condition.

A case of Pape's Diapepsin will cost fifty cents at any Pharmacy here, and will convince any stomach sufferer five minutes after taking a single dose that Fermentation and Sour Stomach is causing the misery of Indigestion.

No matter if you call your trouble Catarrh of the Stomach, Nervousness or Gastritis, or by any other name, always remember that a certain cure is waiting at any drug store the moment you decide to begin its use. Pape's Diapepsin will regulate any out-of-order Stomach within five minutes, and digest promptly, without any further effort, all of any kind of food you eat.

GREAT 'SNUBBING' POSTS FOR CANAL

Preparations Under Way to Check Headway of Big Vessels.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The "snubbing post," with its shining rope-worn grooves, familiar to persons who travel on the tow path and used to check the headway of barges entering canal locks, will be in evidence along the Panama canal route. Like everything else connected with that enterprise, the "snubbing post" will be of gigantic proportions and strength. Instead of being locust or cedar the Isthmian "snubbing post" will be a cast iron shell, one-quarter inch thick and of a diameter of from 22 to 26 inches, the interior being filled with concrete.

It would never do to allow a great 30,000-ton ship to grind along a bare side wall as the ordinary canal boat frequently does to check its headway in entering a lock or when lying along an approach wall awaiting her turn to look through. So the canal engineers have arranged for an elaborate system of spring bumpers, cast iron casings enclosing nests of powerful spiral springs, projecting from recesses in the walls of the approacher and supported by timber bulkheads to prevent injury to the hulls or walls.

BOGUS TICKET SELLERS ARRESTED. PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—Accused of selling bogus tickets for today's game at Shibe park between the Athletics and the New York Giants, Richard Anderson of New York and Lewis P. Greenberg of Boston are under arrest here. It is alleged that they brought a satchel full of the fake tickets from New York and flooded the hotel district with them before they were arrested.

JUST READY TO DROP

When you are "just ready to drop," when you feel so weak that you can hardly drag yourself about—and because you have not slept well, you get up as tired-out next morning as when you went to bed, then you need help right away.

Miss Lea Dumas writes from Malone, N. Y., saying: "I was in a badly run-down condition for several weeks but two bottles of Vinol put me on my feet again and made me strong and well. Vinol has done me more good than all the other medicine I ever took."

If the careworn, haggard men and women, the pale, sickly children and feeble old folks around here would follow Miss Dumas' example, they too would soon be able to say that Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron remedy, had built them up and made them strong.

It is wonderfully strengthening and invigorating body-builder, and we sell it under an iron-clad guarantee of satisfaction. You get your money back if Vinol does not help you. The Owl Drug Co., Oakland, Cal.

Cottolene

A Rational National Shortening

The woods are full of imitations of Cottolene—because Cottolene has made a pronounced success as "the perfect shortening." These imitations are of inferior quality, are packed in tins with ordinary removable covers, and depend largely upon substitution methods for their sale.

When you ask for Cottolene be sure you get Cottolene.

There's only one Cottolene—packed in patent air-tight tin pails, with our trademark on the face of the pail.

It pays to pay a little more for Cottolene because of its superior quality and the fact that, being richer, it will go one-third farther than lard or any of its imitations. Its use means economy in the end.

NO DIVORCE SCANDAL FROM VASSAR GRADS

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Oct. 20.—That the women's colleges of America, with the training which they give, are doing much to eliminate the divorce evil is proved by the fact that the records of Vassar college, one of the foremost and most conservative women's schools, show that not a graduate of that institution has ever figured in a divorce case.

GRAY HAIR MAKES YOU LOOK OLD

Use Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and Your Gray Hair Will Quickly Vanish.

Gray hair is a mark of age, and nothing does so much to make a woman look old as the appearance of gray hair. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy darkens the hair and restores it to its youthful beauty. Our grandmothers and their grandmothers have used sage and sulphur for darkening their hair. Nothing has ever been found more effective for this purpose than these two time-honored remedies, but Wyeth, a modern chemist, has combined the two with other ingredients, which makes a delightful dressing for the hair, and which not only removes every trace of dandruff, but promotes the growth of the hair. It also stops the hair from falling out, and makes it beautiful.

All druggists are authorized to refund the money if it fails to do exactly as represented.

Don't neglect your hair and don't resort to cheap hair dyes. Get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist today, and notice the difference in your hair after a few days' use.

When Repose Is Beauty

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright: 1911: By Lillian Russell.)

D NOT waste your emotions. The greater part of all the muscles of the face are voluntary, under the control of the will and responsive to it, readily reflecting every delicate thought, as well as feeling, as distinctly as a mirror reflects your physical self.

There are twenty-eight muscles about the mouth itself. These are used when you laugh, pout; they harden with thought or droop with anxiety or worry. Do not misuse these muscles by an expenditure of useless emotion.

It is easy to be reposeful and charming when all things go well, but when things go wrong is the time to come bravely to the rescue of the overworked muscles of our mouths deliberately by shutting out the thought of disappointment and annoyance.

Joy is always beautiful. Think of some good action, past or some that you hope to do and fill your mind with such good thoughts that there will be no room for the ugly ones.

The muscles of your mouth take the expression of your thought before you voice it. Just think the words "O, how dreadful I feel!" and take up a mirror and look in it; you will see reflected a dreadful face. It is only the expression of the thought; however. If you imagine you are feeling badly do not look at yourself until you can smile in the mirror, and when you can see a smiling reflection you are cured.

Much emotion is used in ordinary conversation by many women. I have a friend who cannot say "yes" or "no" without nodding her head, pinching her lips, and frowning, absolutely distorting her face. She has no real annoyance of any kind, but her positiveness and authority are so evident that she is absolutely bringing lines to her face by the precise delivery of just an ordinary answer to a most innocuous question. This is not from a nervous condition, but from a positiveness, or, one might say, an aggressiveness that will grow if she is not careful into a shrewish appearance.

Repose is most beautifying and alluring when one at the same time has vivacity. That may sound incongruous, but it is better to have wideawake repose than emotional indifference.

Remember—inward vitality makes perfect outward repose.

EDITH D.—The daily walk is excellent both for the complexion and to reduce the flesh. Of course, it is better to take a long walk early in the morning before breakfast, but if it is difficult for you to do that I am sure it will do almost as much good to take it when you can.

A CONSTANT READER—Olive oil is an excellent flesh builder. Also a glass of warm milk before retiring is good. Have you tried deep breathing for filling out the hollows in your neck? Deep breathing never should be neglected, as it forms a part of one's health and beauty. Women in the News Today

SANTA CRUZ, Oct. 20.—Less than six hours after his acquittal on "white slave" charges, Henri de Lorme and Helen Whitson, the 17-year-old prosecuting witness, were married late last night in the sheriff's office in this city. Attorney Carroll Cook, who assisted in the prosecution, gave the bride away. The marriage was performed by Justice of the Peace William Gardner.

The trial of De Lorme ended last night when at 6 o'clock he was acquitted by a jury which had deliberated for two hours. The case has been a bitter one. The only evidence against the man was the testimony of the girl, and the story of the defendant was in direct opposition.

Heiress Elopes

AURORA, Ill., Oct. 20.—Miss Margaret Dewey, 19-year-old daughter of Mrs. Charles W. Dewey, an heiress to a fortune estimated at more than half a million dollars, has eloped with Hargrave, a contortionist. The couple are believed to be on the way to St. Louis, where the bridegroom will do a turn for a week in a vaudeville theater. The parents of the eloping bride were opposed to Hargrave marrying their daughter. Mrs. Dewey said that the marriage of her daughter to Hargrave was objectionable because of his profession.

Miss Dewey ran away with her actor-sweetheart last Friday. They got a marriage license at Geneva and were married secretly at Geneva. After the ceremony they went at once to Joliet. On the way Hargrave lost the marriage license and the couple are advertising for its return.

The bride did not notify her mother of her marriage. She sent postal cards to her friends. Mrs. Dewey said that she had not heard from them.

Hats Shrunk

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—That the coiffure "hat" was doomed, the harem skirt tabooed with well-dressed women and that hats would be very small this winter were three of the style announcements of a titled milliner, the Countess de Villeneuve-Sombril, who arrived here yesterday on board the steamship St. Paul.

The Countess de Villeneuve-Sombril is connected with a millinery establishment in this city, declaring that in France no titled women would dare go into business, but that here in New York society women gave her every encouragement. The harem skirt was doomed as far as women in best society were concerned, she announced.

"But the hats. Ah, they will be verree chic, verree small, and the coiffure will be small. Hats are doomed. Hair will be worn without artificial puffs and will be wound tight around the head. This will make beautiful women more beautiful and will make homely women beautiful."

Baby Could Swim

SAUSALITO, Oct. 20.—"Muggins," who is 2 years old, can swim, having been taught by her father, Harry Beauregard, keeper of the yacht "Lady Ada," but "Muggins" mother did not know that. So when she saw "Muggins" floating away on the flow tide, fifty feet from their boat, the Ark, in Richardson bay, Mrs. Beauregard promptly jumped into the chilly water.

There were complications, because Mrs. Beauregard, unlike her daughter, has not been taught to swim. After sinking twice she gave a despairing cry for help that was heard by Jonathan Briggs, a passing fisherman, who rescued her. Briggs then hauled "Muggins," who was paddling about in evident enjoyment, from the water. "Muggins" had not cried while in the water—not she—but anger at being taken out caused her to wall as she was taken aboard the Ark.

When Beauregard teaches his daughter any more accomplishments he is going to tell his wife all about it, he said yesterday.

Gift by Aeroplane

VIENNA, Oct. 20.—The first young woman to receive a wedding present by aeroplane is Princess Zita of Parma, who will be married next Saturday to Archduke Charles Francis Joseph, second in line of succession to the dual throne of Austria-Hungary.

Princess Zita has taken profound interest in the flights at the aviation grounds at Wienerneustadt, near her home, Schwaz.

Yesterday Warchalowski, the aviator, flew in his monoplane over the park of her chateau, descended almost at her feet and in behalf of the aerial pilots of Austria presented her a beautiful and exact silver model of a flying machine.

Adjustable Scale

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Oh, girls, listen! Do you know how long your coat is going to be next spring? Of course you don't. So the United Cloak and Suit Designers' Association of America now in session in New York has arranged it for you.

If you are quite tall your coat will be twenty-six inches long. If you are not quite tall your coat will be twenty-four inches long. That is the rule. If you don't like it you will have to go without a coat.

There will be no 27-inch coats or 25-inch coats or 23-inch coats. Only 26 and 24-inch lengths will be tolerated. Really there was quite a discussion over it at the Masonic hall, where the designers are framing up the styles for next season.

JUSTICES COURTS ARE NOT ABOLISHED

INTERPRETS
AMENDMENT
NO. 18

Willis Rules That Effect of the Measure Is Not to Abolish Them.

Holds Legislature Can Make, But Cannot Unmake, Such Tribunals.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—Judge Willis of the Superior Court, handed down a decision today declaring that constitutional amendment eighteen, approved at the special election October 10, did not abolish justice courts.

He held that the term "inferior courts" used in the amendment meant "justice courts" and asserted that the amendment merely gave the legislature the power to establish more of such tribunals as it saw fit. To rule otherwise, he said, would mean to abolish more than 2000 of what he called the "poor man's courts."

The ruling came in the case of J. A. Woods, who was held by a justice court to answer to the Superior Court to the charge of threatening to kill his wife Katherine Woods. The defendant's attorney, R. J. Adcock, brought habeas corpus proceedings in Judge Willis' court to obtain the man's freedom, alleging that since constitutional amendment 18 was passed justice courts were without authority.

As soon as Judge Willis rendered his decision, Adcock announced his intention of taking the matter to the Supreme Court.

HUSBAND 'SHOWS
WHO IS THE BOSS'

Wife Says Spouse Locked Her in a Closet and Did Other Dreadful Things.

Richard A. McKinney locked his wife Lila in a closet for more than an hour, declaring that he did so to "show that he and not she was the boss," according to the wife's complaint for divorce filed today. This and many other dreadful things were done to her in the less than two months that they lived together after their marriage in October, 1907. The plaintiff also avers that she was forced to hide her jewelry for fear that her husband would appropriate it for satisfying his insatiable craving for liquor. When she left she came to Oakland and has since supported herself. Fifty dollars that he gave her after the wedding, she says, was all that he ever contributed to their support. There are no children. McKinney is in Los Angeles.

PROBATION IS GRANTED WOMAN

Lottie Hastings and J. Cromarty Must Be On Good Behavior Five Years.

Five years' probation was granted to J. Cromarty and Lottie Hastings this morning by Superior Judge Wm. S. Wells, the pair having been charged with the theft of $300 in jewelry from Charles Kaness, a petty officer on the gunboat Yorktown, last spring. It was claimed by the defendants that the valuables had been given to the Hastings woman and that Cromarty had pawned them at her request.

Kaness was on the stand and he told of his relations with the pair, admitting that he and the woman had been on intimate terms. Judge Wells scored the plaintiff and told him that his conduct was a disgrace to the uniform that he wore. He also upbraid Cromarty for his conduct. Mrs. Hastings said that she once had a husband but that she did not know if he was alive.

BERKELEY BOY BURNS TO DEATH
PARENTS MOURN ONE OF TEN

MRS. T. H. HARRIS and her sons, Joseph and (below) Alfred. Joseph died from the effects of burns and Alfred was seriously burned.

MOTHER HURT
IN ATTEMPT AT RESCUE

Mrs. Thos. Harris Faces Death in Flames to Save Baby

BERKELEY, Oct. 20.—"I would not give up one of my ten boys; no, not even for a girl," Mrs. Thomas H. Harris of 1939 Stuart street told a TRIBUNE reporter a few weeks ago.

Today Mrs. Harris, the pretty young mother who boasted of her ten, is prostrated with grief over the loss of one of the youngest, Joseph L., aged 3, who was burned to death late yesterday.

The child passed away in agony at 10 o'clock last evening in Roosevelt hospital of burns received while playing near a bonfire yesterday afternoon in front of the Harris home.

Alfred J. Harris, aged 4, was badly burned about the legs, and Mrs. Harris and a maid, Loretta Hennessey, received burns on the hands in extinguishing the fire which burned the clothing off 3-year-old Joseph and charred his tiny body.

PLAY NEAR FIRE. Joseph, Alfred and Theodore Harris, aged 6, with several of their young friends of the neighborhood, were playing near the fire, when Joseph's clothes became ignited, and he ran screaming across the yard.

Alfred bravely attempted to extinguish the flames, which were fast converting the other boy into a human torch. In the effort the older brother's stockings became ignited and his legs were severely burned.

Hearing the children's cries, Mrs. Harris and the maid rushed from the house and rolled Joseph upon the ground, finally putting out the fire with sand. The hands of both the women were badly burned.

Joseph was burned almost beyond recognition, the skin being blackened from his head to his feet. He was rushed to Roosevelt hospital and lingered for several hours, suffering terrible agony. Physicians were unable to do much assistance.

The two women and 4-year-old Alfred were given treatment at home.

FATHER GRIEF-STRIKEN. Thomas H. Harris, the father, who is state agent for the Germania Life Insurance Company, was summoned from his office in San Francisco. His grief over the loss of one of his favorite sons was pitiful.

Joseph Harris was born in Michigan and was the eighth son born to the couple. John V., the tenth, aged 1 year, was born in this city.

On September 16 THE TRIBUNE published a photograph of the parents and their ten boys, and in an accompanying interview with Mrs. Harris she told of the care she had taken in bringing up her children, and of the health and accident precautions which she exercised.

"We have never had a doctor for any of the boys except in case of an accident," she said proudly. "I sometimes think I would like a little girl in the family, but I would not give up one of my boys in exchange for a daughter."

"FRIEND" VANISHES WITH SAN JOSEAN'S MONEY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Intro Fisher, a resident of San Jose, yesterday met a friend and engaged in a game of cards. When they had concluded, Fisher was minus $25.00, all the money he had. He appealed to his friend, whose name he cannot remember, to reimburse him to the sum of $25.50 to enable him to get home, but was refused. He told his troubles to the desk sergeant at the Bush street station, and an officer was detailed, who learned that the "friend" had departed for Salt Lake City.

GAME BRUTAL
SAYS SCHOOL BOARD

Football Hard On Bones, But Good Fun, Agree the Directors.

Students to Be Permitted to Quit Studies to Attend the Annual Contest.

Whether or not the Oakland Board of Education should be responsible for the accidents at the interschool athletic meets was discussed last evening at the regular meeting of the board, held in the City Hall Annex, Seventeenth and Broadway. The question was proposed by Director Harry Boyle, who stated that several of the high school football players were injured and there was no physician or attendant to dress their wounds. Superintendent of Schools J. W. McClymonds stated that the board has always been held liable for the games. It was the opinion of the directors that the contests were brutal, but furnished enjoyment for the boys.

"The students are entitled to consideration," said Director Calvin M. Orr, "and they must have recreation."

ANNUAL GAME. Miss Annie F. Brown presented a request from C. E. Keyes, principal of the Oakland High school, in which he asked that the Oakland High school football players who will meet the Berkeley High school team on the University of California campus in their annual battle, be excused at 10 o'clock on the day of the game and that the school be dismissed at 2 o'clock. Director Brown asked if the game could not be played at 3 o'clock instead of 2 o'clock, as it would not then interfere with their studies. Director Cook said that the grounds would be occupied by other teams at that hour and it would be impossible for the local team to play at a later period or upon another day. The board granted permission to the squad to leave school at noon on the day of the game and the students will be dismissed at 2 o'clock.

FORREST OBJECTS. The directors' room of the Board of Education will be fitted up with linoleum. Twenty-four chairs have been purchased for the chamber at a cost of $47. The ex-officio members of the board, John Forrest, said that he did not approve of the expenditure and declared that it was gross extravagance. He said that there were plenty of old chairs that could be used in the room without incurring additional expense.

The board extended the time upon the installation of the heating and ventilating contract of M. F. Murry on the Melrose school, which was to have been completed October 20.

Mrs. Bruce Hagen, president of the Federated Kindergartens of this city, addressed a communication to the board in which she asked the members to authorize Dr. N. K. Foster or Dr. Florence Sylvester to examine the children in the kindergarten once a year. The secretary of the board will make the announcement to the physicians, who will visit those institutions annually.

PROMOTION SOUGHT. The application of Miss Kane for promotion from vice-principal of the Garfield school, principal was referred to the committee on elementary schools.

The board voted to repair the Oakland High school gymnasium.

The Mothers' club of the Lockwood school appealed for an additional room in the school to relieve the congested condition. The matter will be disposed of by the building, grounds and equipment committee.

ARCHITECTURE OF FAIR DISCUSSED

Edward R. Bennett Goes Into Consultation With Exposition Directors.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Edward R. Bennett, architect, went into consultation this morning with the directors of the Panama-Pacific Exposition Company, to plan for the construction of the beautiful buildings that are to adorn the 1915 fair. This was the first step taken toward the actual construction work of the mammoth enterprise.

Bennett is practically a Californian, having arrived here in 1888, after having won the Hearst scholarship to Paris. Later he worked in New York and has made plans for beautifying many cities in the East.

Plans are being formed for the excursion to Phoenix, Ariz., on November 8, to visit the Arizona State fair. November 11 has been set as Panama-Pacific Exposition day, and Mayor Elmer Ross and other prominent exposition boosters will go.

OAKLANDERS FIND PRINCIPLE OF FLYING
INVENTORS TO REVOLUTIONIZE AIR-TRAVEL

CURTIS K. FORNER (left) and E. W. HARTMAN, who claim to have solved mystery of seagull's flight.

Curtis K. Forner and E. W. Hartman Tell of Experiments With Negative Gravity

That they have discovered the scientific principle of a sea gull's flight with a view to embodying it in the construction of an airship on an entirely new plan, is the claim made by Curtis K. Forner and E. W. Hartman, civil engineers of this city, who have been experimenting on the problem for the last eight years. They are now at work on their plans and expect in a short time to construct an airship capable of carrying four passengers and which will demonstrate to the satisfaction of the world that theirs is the only feasible method of utilizing air craft with the safety that attends a winged creature in its flight.

After a great deal of experimenting with air fowl, intent upon learning just what it was that made it possible for a gull, a vulture or an eagle to rise to a great height without the flap of a wing, the men confined their attention to the quills of the birds and conceived the idea that it was through them that flight was possible.

GAS IN QUILLS. According to their statements, they found that the great quills of an eagle or a gull contained a gas and that it was this gas which, forced into the capillaries at the will of the creature, caused its body to rise from the ground. It was then found that when so few as a number as six quills on each wing of a sea gull were punctured with a sharp instrument the gull was unable to rise even though it flapped its wings incessantly.

In order to put their discovery to practical use the inventors turned their attention to generating some gas which could be used on the same principle in a great mechanical bird. This they claim to have accomplished and all that remains now to be done is the actual construction of the airship. Plans for the ship call for a contrivance somewhat after the fashion of a dirigible balloon of the type now used in Germany for transporting passengers. There are, however, a number of additional features made necessary for perfecting the balance of the ship. The one that will be built for demonstration purposes will be ninety feet long, with a beam of fifteen feet. Surrounding the body of the airship will be a series of tubes in which the gas will be forced to make it rise and keep the ship suspended in the air. The atmosphere will be utilized as the ship proceeds.

In speaking on the subject Forner said: "Our discovery is absolutely a new one. Scientific men have been working for ages in an endeavor to learn the mysteries of a bird's flight. Other inventors have sought to make use of the principle and in a way have succeeded so far as the balancing is concerned, but they have been unable to make their craft rise as it were on its own accord. Our invention will be lifted from the ground, not forced by propellers. The principle that makes it possible for the hawk to remain in the air for hours and hours with scarcely the flap of a wing, will keep our airship suspended. It will make aerial navigation absolutely safe and revolutionize all present methods."

Just what the gas is composed of neither of the men would state, that being the secret of their invention. They claim, however, that within a very short time the public will be treated to a demonstration that will convince the world.

"Murphy and His Kind Drove Me Out," He Tells Guests at Banquet.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—William R. Hearst's announcement that he was back in the regular Democratic fold caused much speculation in political circles today regarding the fate of the Independence League. This organization was founded by Hearst and nominated candidates supported by him in the last national and state campaigns. The question is, to what extent, if at all, he will use it in coming political battles.

Hearst declared himself last night at the opening rally of the local fusion campaign in the first public address he has made since his return from abroad.

"I am speaking," he said, "as a good citizen, I hope, and also as a good Democrat. Mr. Murphy and his kind drove me out of the Democratic party five years ago, but the commendable course of the national democracy has brought me back into the fold."

He declared he would continue his fight against the "undemocratic principles" of Tammany Hall, but that the greatest benefit local Democrats could confer on the national democracy was to free it of the "hindrance and handicap" of Tammany Hall and Murphy.

Hearst's audience was composed almost entirely of Republicans and members of the Independence League, and his declaration caused surprise and widespread comment. The fusion movement here with which Hearst adherents have allied themselves is opposing the regular Democratic candidates to be voted on this fall for the assembly, the judiciary and county offices.

DEAD JAPANESE WAS QUARRELSOME

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—That K. Inabi, the Japanese who is alleged to have murdered on the high seas, was of a quarrelsome disposition and in the habit of making the cook a target for pots, pans and dishes, was the gist of the testimony given by the first mate, Thomas Holmes, in the trial of Charles Smith, in the United States court this morning. Smith is accused of slaying the Japanese steward, and of throwing his body overboard. Holmes told of the second mate saying, when he was placed in irons, that he would make it hot for anyone who would testify against him.

On the morning of Inabi's disappearance, Holmes declared that he heard sweeping on deck about 5 a. m. and discovered that Smith was using the broom. He thought the mate was asking the reason for it. He was told that the mate had slipped on deck and that he had swept the place in order to avoid a fall.

ALAMEDA

ALAMEDA SEEKS
KEY ROUTE FERRYSuggests Connection With San Francisco and Names
Wharf Site.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 20.—The discovery that the Key Route company in its new art folder has linked the Oakland Traction Company's Alameda street car service directly with the Key Route train and ferry service has brought out the information that the Key Route is figuring the possibilities of diverting a share of the heavy Alameda commuting traffic to the Key Route ferry.

Acting on the tip afforded by the Key Route's map of its lines and auxiliary street car service, the Alameda Improvement Club recently wrote to the company suggesting that the company could operate a ferry service between Alameda and San Francisco with but slight preliminary plans. Second Vice-President W. R. Alberger of the Key Route has written the Alameda club that the proposition will be submitted to the board of directors.

The suggested plan is to extend the Oakland Traction Company's Santa Clara avenue line west from Webster street to the main bay shore, thence north along the bay to a point near the Pacific Coast Borneo property, where a splendid ferry site could be had.

SMITH IS OWNER.

Owing to the fact that F. M. Smith already owns the needed ferry terminal on this side of the bay, and owing to the additional fact that the Oakland Traction lines already cover seven-eighths of Alameda, the inauguration of a new ferry system would be easy of accomplishment and economical in cost.

The Southern Pacific is about ready to inaugurate its new interurban service between Oakland and Alameda, via Eighth street in Alameda and Webster and Franklin streets in Oakland. This service will be a vigorous rival of the traction company, for passengers will be picked up by all the Southern Pacific ferry trains and transferred at Encinal avenue and Eighth street, and at Lincoln avenue and Eighth street, to the Alameda-Oakland train, which will make the run to Fourteenth and Franklin streets in eight or ten minutes.

EASY TO CONFESS, SAYS SENATOR

Broderick Declares Former State Official Wanted to Satisfy Prosecutor.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20. — When State Senator John Broderick of Chicago resumed the stand at the Lorimer investigation today, Attorney Healy questioned him regarding the incidents that occurred in Broderick's west side saloon at the time former State Senator Holtzlaw claimed to have received $2500 for voting for Lorimer.

Healy asked Broderick if the witness could give any reason why Holtzlaw confessed to receiving $2500 from Broderick.

"Why, it was the easiest thing for him to do. He wanted to give something to satisfy the state's attorney and save himself and so he picked me out."

Al Bergener, of the Chicago Examiner, testified Broderick "sent me several telegrams then came from Chicago to Springfield. He told me that Andy Lawrence had sent him and that they could have the indictment against me pulled by State's Attorney Burke, provided I would give them an intimation of where the money came from."

CONGRESSMAN KNOWLAND LECTURES BEFORE BANKERS

Delivers Instructive Illustrated Address on Panama Canal Project Before Members of Oakland Chapter

As a consequence of a suggestion made by Congressman Joseph B. Knowland of this district to Colonel Goethals, in charge of the work at the Panama Canal, there will be displayed at the Panama-Pacific exposition in San Francisco in 1915, one of the tiny locomotives used by the French before they abandoned their attempt on the isthmus to connect, by means of a canal, the waters of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. This toy-looking contrivance for contrast will be placed by the side of one of the leviathan locomotives which are in use today.

There will also be displayed at the same time and place an endless chain on which will be strung a number of buckets each of which is not much larger than a coal hod, which was a part of the mechanism used by the same people in making the excavation for the canal which they finally abandoned. This will be contrasted with one of the steam shovels of the pattern which is now used in the excavation of the canal of the future. The efficiency of these excavators can be appreciated when it is stated that one of them does the work of 600 men and there are one hundred such machines employed in the digging of the canal.

The toy-like locomotives and excavators once used and subsequently abandoned by the French still remain in the pass where they were deserted and have become almost hidden by vines and other tropical verdure which have since grown up about and over them.

KNOWLAND LECTURE.

These and a number of other interesting facts were brought to attention last night by Congressman Knowland in an illustrated lecture which that gentleman delivered before Oakland chapter, American Institute of Banking, in the rooms of the chapter in the Perry building, in Thirteenth street, Golden L. Downing, the president of the chapter, presided. The lecture was warmly appreciated and rapturously applauded.

The quarters of the organization were crowded, causing an overflow into those of the Clearing House adjoining, where the story told by the congressman could be listened to with interest. One hundred and two pictures were pictured on a screen and every one of them was instinct with the varied kinds of life and activity incidental to the great work which the United States is doing on the isthmus in the interests of commerce, peace and civilization.

The lecture was a continuous story of three trips made by the congressman from Washington to the canal as a member of the congressional committee having the great improvement in charge. The pictures showed the new union railroad station in Washington, the departure from New York and the arrival at Colon. They also showed Panama before the revolution and the changes which have since taken place. The work on the canal was illustrated in detail. There were also pictures of several of the largest canals in the world and a comparison was instituted between these and the canal under construction. These waterways were the Suez canal, a Russian canal, one in Crete, the Sault Ste. Marie and the Manchester and Liverpool. The largest of these was the Suez and yet its greatest width was only 165 feet, whereas the narrowest part of the Panama canal had a width of 300 feet.

INTERESTING FEATURE.

A most interesting feature of the effort was the description of the locks and the manner in which they were to be worked. The estimated cost of the canal was $375,000,000. For the carrying on of the work Congress has already appropriated $233,500,000.

The lecturer said that the assurance General Goethals had given President Taft that the canal would be completed in 1915, two years ahead of the time originally estimated, was based on the enormous efficiency of the machinery which is being used in the work as earlier referred to in this article.

Considering the matter of the saving in time which would be experienced as a consequence of the completion of the great waterway, Mr. Knowland said that it would require twelve hours for a vessel to steam through the canal from one coast to the other. The time from New York to San Francisco via the canal would, at first, be fourteen days, but he was of the opinion that new greyhounds of the water would be able to reduce that time to eleven days. The present time around the Horn between the cities referred to is sixty days. This means that the canal will afford a saving of forty-six days in time and cut off the run 7820 miles.

Congressman Knowland is a member of the House committee on interstate and foreign commerce, which exercises jurisdiction over legislation appertaining to the canal and canal zone and has made a special study of the various questions which the construction of the Panama Canal has presented.

TELLS OF WORK.

"Three visits to the isthmus of Panama at intervals of two years and in an official capacity," declared the speaker, "have inspired me with a profound admiration for the organization which has been perfected by our government covering every branch of the work. It is a wonderful and great instrumentality overcoming obstacles with apparent ease. These personal inspections have afforded exceptional opportunities for noting the phenomenal progress which has been made. It must be kept in mind that it was not until June, 1906, that Congress finally determined the type of canal."

"The isthmus of Panama, at the point where the canal crosses, runs northeast, while the canal, from Cristobal, the port at the Atlantic entrance, to Balboa, the terminus on the Pacific side, cuts across in a southeasterly direction. The result is that the Pacific terminus is twenty miles further than the Atlantic. It is rather startling to awaken in Panama and find the sun rising in the Pacific. The length of the canal from deep water in the Atlantic to deep water in the Pacific will be about fifty miles. A vessel will enter the approach channel in Limon, which channel will have a bottom width of 600 feet and a depth of mean tide of 41 feet for the seven miles to Gatun. Here the ship will enter a series of three locks in flight and be lifted 85 feet to the level of Gatun lake. The canal through this lake will vary from 1000 to 500 feet in width and will be twenty-four miles in length, the depth varying, through this lake, from 45 to 55 feet.

At Obispo the famous Culebra cut, that great man-made canyon, which carries the canal across the continental divide, begins. It is nine miles in length, and for eight miles the minimum bottom width of the canal will be encountered. 300 feet, but at all angles within this cut it will be wide enough to allow a 1000-foot ship to turn. Through Culebra cut the depth will be 45 feet.

PACIFIC END.

"At the Pacific end of the Culebra cut is the single Pedro Miguel lock, in duplicate, which will lower the vessel from the Gatun lake level of 85 feet, which will be the maximum of the cut, into a small second artificial lake a mile and a half long, the channel through which will be 500 feet wide and carrying a depth of 45 feet. At the Pacific end of Miraflores lake, which this body of water is called, will be Miraflores locks, in series of two, in duplicate, lowering the vessel into the Pacific sea level, where it will enter a channel eight and a half miles in length and 500 feet in width, with a depth at mean tide of 45 feet, carrying it out into deep water in the Pacific."

Speaking of the fortifications of the canal, Congressman Knowland said: "Congress in February appropriated $3,000,000 to inaugurate the work of fortifying the canal, the approved plans, according to the estimates of the board of officers of the army and navy contemplating the ultimate expenditure of $12,475,328. We are pledged to maintain the general principle of neutrality, and upon the United States alone, under the flag of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty with England, the responsibility rests. I am a peace advocate and as such voted and spoke for the fortification of the canal. We will be in a position to prevent blockades and will not be compelled to depend upon other nations to keep the canal open in time of war. The canal is in proximity to South American countries which, if engaged in war with their neighbors, might not recognize the principle of neutrality. An attempt to blockade or a sudden blow at the canal might find our fleet and other fleets in the wrong ocean."

The speaker gave views and a short history and description of the great ship canal of both the sea level and lock types. He declared that the wisdom of Congress in deciding upon a lock type of canal is strikingly apparent to every one who visits Panama and witnesses physical obstacles being overcome such as man has never before been called upon to grapple with.

Our wonderful achievements in sanitation, under the direction of Dr. W. C. Gorgas were dwelt upon. "The United States government," declared Mr. Knowland, "will expend fully $20,000,000 on sanitation before the work is completed which will be 5 per cent of the total cost of the canal. Of the French expenditures but one-half of 1 per cent was devoted toward protecting the health of the employees."

In concluding the speaker predicted that the canal would exert a greater influence upon the commerce of the world than any other single event of history. At the close of the evening, amidst the greatest enthusiasm, on motion of Secretary Ludlow, Congressman Knowland was elected an honorary member of Oakland chapter, American Institute of Bankers.

The Shop That Saves You Money A Question Answered

Why, with our upstairs location have we built so large a business?

BECAUSE the name of good shoes travels far.

BECAUSE the years of business preceding this was founded upon the ground work of quality.

BECAUSE it is reasonable to infer that this business is built upon the principle of growth on merit.

BECAUSE we could not increase in size without increasing in helpfulness.

TAP LINE ALLOWANCE GETS LEASE OF LIFE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—All of the so-called "tap line" allowances given along the lumber carrying railroads in the Southwest, which were to have been cancelled November 1 will be continued in effect until February 1, 1918. The Interstate Commerce Commission announced yesterday that it had reached no final conclusion.

The "tap line cases" which have been a lively issue before the Commission, involve the right of railroads to make certain allowance to small tap lines and to make divisions of the lumber freight rate with them. These tap lines are mostly spurs of only a few miles owned by individuals or lumber concerns.

FIELD RATION ABOLISHED.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The field ration, adopted in 1901 by the war department for troops in the field, has been abolished. After it had been given a thorough trial it was found unsuitable for the purpose for which it was devised. Army officers believe regular garrison food can be provided under field service condition, as easily as a special ration.

HOW DO YOU FEEL AFTER BREAKFAST?

Soot of bloated? Big, as if you had eaten too much? That's from gas in your stomach. If it were only the discomfort gas produces, it wouldn't be so bad, but it's the damage gas does by distending your stomach which in turn presses against your lungs, liver, heart and kidneys.

It takes just about one week to positively and permanently remove this with Baalman's Gas Tablets. Take two before and two after meals, and at the end of one week you will have no more gas, no more difficult breathing, no more belching, no more bloating, and, last of all, your whole health will improve, and enjoy every morsel of food you take with out fear of gas.

And all this you can obtain with one 50-cent bottle of Baalman's Gas Tablets.

These peculiar tablets are sold for 50c a bottle by nearly every druggist. If not in stock tell him to get them for you from his wholesaler, or send 50c in all-vet, stamps or money order to Hahnemann Pharmacy, 334 Sutter St., San Francisco, Cal.

ROBBED OF GEMS AT A FURRIER'S

Clever Woman Thief Secures
Diamonds and Jewels
Worth $2500.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 20.—While trying on a fur coat in a local mercantile establishment, yesterday Mrs. O. H. Fithian, wife of a wholesale shoe dealer of this city, was robbed of a handbag said to contain $2500 worth of diamonds and other jewelry. The robber is believed to be a woman who entered the fur store. She is thought to have taken the bag from a table close to where Mrs. Fithian was sitting.

The police have a good description of the alleged thief and hope to have so had, but it's the damage gas does by distending your stomach which in turn presses against your lungs, liver, heart and kidneys.

It takes just about one week to positively and permanently remove this with Baalman's Gas Tablets. Take two before and two after meals, and at the end of one week you will have no more gas, no more difficult breathing, no more belching, no more bloating, and, last of all, your whole health will improve, and enjoy every morsel of food you take with out fear of gas.

These peculiar tablets are sold for 50c a bottle by nearly every druggist. If not in stock tell him to get them for you from his wholesaler, or send 50c in all-vet, stamps or money order to Hahnemann Pharmacy, 334 Sutter St., San Francisco, Cal.

The expenses, however, increased $87,603,983, and the net revenues decreased $58,308,515. The bulletin, sets forth that taxes increased $4,602,998 and the net income from operation decreased $63,463,225.

SMELTER FUMES TO BE HARNESSSED

Stanford Professor Finds Way of Saving the State Millions.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 20.—After working quietly for four months with a few assistants, Prof. Stewart W. Young of the Stanford chemistry department has discovered a chemical method whereby millions of dollars will be saved annually to the state of California in vegetation and livestock, a valuable by-product will be created out of the poisonous fumes of ore smelters and an industry saved which has hitherto brought only destruction to the surrounding country.

Professor Young calls his method the thiol process.

"Its purpose is to remove the poisonous sulphur dioxide gases from the smoke of smelting furnaces, particularly roasters," he says. "In some cases it becomes impossible to carry on the two industries of smelting and agriculture in the same district, and a number of important smelters, particularly that of the Guggenheim interests near Oroville, have been enjoined by court orders issued on complaint of farmers."

FOUR MONTHS' TASK.
Four months ago, Professor Young says, he became interested in the problem, due to the closing of the Oroville smelter because of the destruction its fumes were causing. Of the three deleterious substances contained in the smelter fumes, arsenic compounds, sulphur dioxide and sulphur dioxide, the last until now has never yielded to chemical treatment. In form it is a true gas, differing from the others, which are found as solid substances. Professor Young is now working on the engineering problem connected with treating this huge volume of gas chemically without stopping up the flues of the smelter stacks, and expects to announce complete success in a few weeks.

Describing his process, Professor Young stated:

"The reduction of sulphur dioxide to free sulphur or brimstone is extremely simple. It may be accomplished by means of a hyposulphite, such as crude petroleum. There is no cheaper reducing agent. The gas could be converted into sulphuric acid, but for this there is a limited market. The possibility of converting the sulphur dioxide into free sulphur seems to have received little attention. Sulphur supplies for many years to come would be established, and the present serious check to the smelting industry would be overcome."

JEAN THURNHERR MAY AGAIN GO UNDER KNIFE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—Following a series of examinations by physicians and criminologists, conducted while she was in jail on a charge of theft, Jean Thurnherr, alleged "girl raffles," was released yesterday and given into the care of friends. Scientists who examined Mrs. Thurnherr agreed that a blow on her head, received when she was a child, had left her with an uncontrollable desire to steal and that she was not mentally responsible for her acts. In all other respects she was said to be normal.

Her case has attracted widespread attention among the surgical fraternity. One operation was performed on her skull and a cure was announced, but shortly afterwards she again fell into the hands of the police. Another operation would be performed.

The Care of the Bathroom Closet.
In the bathroom the closet requires constant attention and frequent, thorough scrubbing. Rinse the seat and flush freely. Put into the bowl of the closet a handful of Gold Dust washing powder and let the solution stand for some time. Then take an old broom and scrub all the parts that can be reached, especially into the traps as far as possible. Flush again, and add more of the washing powder and wash under the flushing rim and all parts inside and out. Stains of iron from the water if not removed by the scouring, may be removed with a few drops of hydrochloric acid.

NEW AEON RELAY TO BRIDGE SPACE

Wireless Telephone Soon to Be Common, Thanks to Little Device.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—And now it's the aeon relay. A few years from now, the wireless men say, no home will be complete without one. Within that time, according to the men who are experimenting daily to broaden the usefulness of wireless telegraphy, the wireless telephones will have been perfected, and by means of the little aeon relay you will be able to sit on a sofa in your home and talk over the common, or land variety of telephone, to your friends or family a thousand miles away.

The aeon relay is an instrument devised to reproduce into a telephone transmitter the signals of the wireless telegraph or the spoken word of the wireless telephone. It is technically described as a tube filled with two rarified gases whose specific densities are in absolute balance. The tube is connected electrically with the receiver of the wireless instrument and the land telephone transmitter. The wireless impulses, received in the tube, shatter the balance of the gases and are reproduced into the telephone transmitter.

Successful experiments were made yesterday with the aeon relay. Messages were read with ease from an office telephone, transmitted from a wireless station. Music played into a wireless telephone was caught by a wireless receiver at a distant point, relayed to a San Francisco telephone and heard by a number of persons in various parts of the city, including the house from which the music was being sent.

H. P. Dwyer, a wireless telephone expert, and E. E. Ennis, a wireless telegraph expert, are conducting the experiments with the aeon relay which, they are confident, will go far towards making practicable the use of wireless instruments.

OREGON DEFENDS REFERENDUM LAW

Replies to Recent Attack of the Telephone Company Made at Capital.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Oregon's defense of the initiative and referendum method of legislation has been presented to the Supreme Court of the United States in the shape of a brief by Attorney General Crawford of that State. The brief is a reply to the attack by the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph company on the constitutionality of the methods.

According to Crawford, the question of whether the initiative and referendum method violates the clause of the Federal constitution which guarantees to each state a republican form of government is a political one, for congress and the President to pass upon, and not a judicial one, for the courts to decide.

The attorney general urges that the political branch of the Federal government has already decided that the referendum and initiative method is constitutional.

"Senators and representatives from States reserving these powers are seated in the Senate and House of Representatives without protest," he argues in this connection.

"When new states are admitted the President and Congress pass upon the form of government presented by the proposed state and decide whether the same is in harmony with the constitution of the United States. They have in several instances approved state constitutions, reserving the identical powers to the states at the same time, notably Oklahoma and Arizona and other states, have changed their constitutions to include those powers with the same result. Colorado, Arkansas, Maine and Oregon, without objection from any Federal authority."

PAYMASTER URGES INCREASED SALARY

Whipple Pays Tribute to Government Employee in His Report.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Tribute to the government employee is written in the annual report of Paymaster General Charles H. Whipple of the army in a plea for an increase of salary and a system of retirement when the employee reaches the age of incapacity.

Referring to the statistical increase of the cost of living during the last 15 years without a corresponding raise in pay, General Whipple says that the increase is asked not as a reward for past services, "but as an actual necessity."

To attain and maintain an efficiency impossible under the present law, General Whipple recommends that at least 50 persons of the paymaster's department be made permanent details. This would be a permanent detail, he says, the majors and higher grades permanent. He also recommends that the period of detail to the grades of major, lieutenant colonel and colonel be extended from four to six years, as under the present order, it is not until an officer's four year term is drawing to an end that he has attained the highest point of usefulness. This is because of the thorough knowledge he must have of the peculiar laws, customs and regulations governing the disbursement and accounting of public funds.

The mobilization of the army last summer at the Mexican border, says General Whipple, demonstrated the ability to promptly considerable bodies of troops under conditions simulating war.

SACRAMENTO FETE HAS BIG OPENING

Motorcycle Races Are Held to Celebrate First Day of Jubilee.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 20.—Queen Lucy I, sovereign ruler of the Greater Sacramento jubilee, has issued her proclamation, which commands all her subjects to lay down their usual tasks, banish dull care and join with her in celebrating Saturday, on penalty of being severely dealt with by her majesty.

The Greater Sacramento jubilee began this afternoon, when the greatest motorcycle parade ever held in California took place, followed by motorcycle races at Oak Park, one of the annexed suburbs of the city.

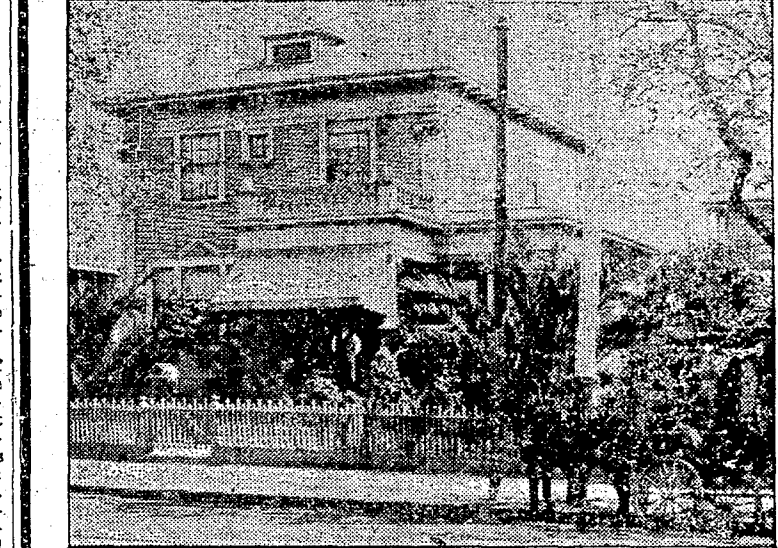

Early Saturday morning a salute of cannon from the boundaries of the Greater Sacramento will open the festivities and from then until long past midnight there will not be a dull moment in the capital for the thousands of visitors that are coming here from all parts of the Sacramento valley. There will be concerts, parades, literary exercises, a free barbecue, fireworks, a confetti carnival, a Mardi Gras and sightseeing.

The city is being lavishly decorated in green and gold and the national colors for the day, and thousands of electric lights are being suspended over the streets. Saturday has been declared a legal holiday in the city, while the schools were dismissed at noon.

Tomorrow there will be a great industrial parade that will eclipse any seen here before. A military company and brass bands from a dozen near-by towns will participate. Wells-Fargo will have an ancient stage coach in the parade, representing an old-time pony express.

OAKS PLAY SLAMBANG BALL, BUT LOSE TO SACRAMENTO

Come From Behind and Almost Nose Senators Out in Hitting Contest.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 20. — It was a awful farce Oakland and Sacramento played out to the fans here yesterday afternoon. Getting away with a flying start, O'Rourke's men tallied six runs and up to the fifth inning had a lead of 12 to 3. Then the Oaks went tearing after the lawmakers and made O'Rourke's pets go ten rounds to beat 'em.

The Senators had pitched into Yates to the extent of six runs on four hits in the opening inning. Eleven batters faced the Oaks. To rub it in, they banged Yates for four more runs in the third, and when Yates quit the job they pounded "Tiny" Leonard for four in the fourth. Then they rested at ease.

The Oaks pegged along quietly, gathering one, two and three runs at a time until they reached the eighth. Then, zowie! how they did clout that horsehide. It was bang, bang for a double or single. Mahoney took it good-naturedly for a while, and then, realizing his danger, tried to speed up. It was no use. The Oaks were hitting everything, and before they had pitched seven runs had been made on eight hits and the score was tied.

Hoffman was out for two, hitting one, Tiedemann one, were the way the singles were distributed, while the doubles went to Tiedemann one and Zacher one in this inning.

It was then up to the Senators to win it back. The game went along into the tenth before they got a chance, when Lewis' baserunning and Tiedemann's single turned the job. Lewis walked, Tiedemann pitched second, and then Cuthaw third. Heister drove him with a single to right.

Shinn and Madden put in a supply of new headgear. Shinn got a homer in the first and Madden hit over the fence with two men on bases in the fourth.

RIVAL ELK TEAMS TO BATTLE ON BALL FIELD

Oakland and Alameda Lodges Will Present Strong Line Ups in Game.

Tomorrow afternoon the leaders of the Elks' Baseball League will come together in what should be one of the best games of the tournament, the contesting teams being from the Oakland and Alameda lodges. Alameda leads the league at the present time with three wins and none lost, while Oakland has the same number of victories with one defeat charged against them. Alameda will be strengthened for this game by the addition of Johnson, formerly of the Oakland Coast League club, otherwise their line-up will be as formerly. They are placing a great deal of reliance on their new pitcher, but the members of the 171 team claim that they were always fond of left handers and say that it will take more than a reputation to keep their sluggers down.

SAN FRANCISCO JURIST TO RETIRE FROM POPULAR GAME

Official Tenders Resignation as President of Pacific Coast League After Two Years of Service

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Judge Thomas F. Graham of the San Francisco Superior Court and president of the Pacific Coast League this morning tendered his resignation to the secretary of the association to take effect at the end of the playing season. Judge Graham was elected to the position two years ago, and has during his term of office been a clear and fair-minded official. Pressure of other business is given as the judge's reason for giving up baseball.

FARMER PICKS FAST HAZEL HOTCHKISS IS TEAM TO MEET OLYMPIANS

Graduate Manager Farmer has received word from Sacramento that the athletic club team would be unable to fulfill its engagement with the blue and gold second team tomorrow. As yet Farmer has been unable to find a substitute, though negotiations are pending with Coach Faulkner of the St. Mary's squad. The time of the game, however, is of importance contested during that time, as well as the national championship, which will be played on Saturday, Oct. 21, at 3 p. m., instead of 2:45 p. m., as previously announced.

Front-ranker Pauly has been temporarily shifted to breakaway Pauly is one of the most versatile forwards on the Coast, and can play equally well in any of the pack positions, with the possible exception of lock. Monty Morris is reported fit, and the back division should benefit by his presence behind the scrum. Louis Watts, the crack winger, makes his debut of the season against the Olympians tomorrow.

Schaeffer has announced the names of the players who will represent California against the winged O's. Carpenter and Allen are detailed to go on a geological trip. The selected team follows: Full back, Bogardus; wings, Evans and Watts; center, Abrams; outside five, Stroud; inside five, Elliot; half back, Morris; breakaways, Smart and Pauly; lock, Kitten; side rank, Hardy and Hansen; front rank, Kessler, C. A. Phleger and H. H. Phleger.

CALIFORNIA HAS EASY TIME WITH HEALD TEAM

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Oct. 20.—In the second game with Heald's Business College of Oakland, the California basketball team won an easy victory yesterday afternoon, the score being 10 to 4.

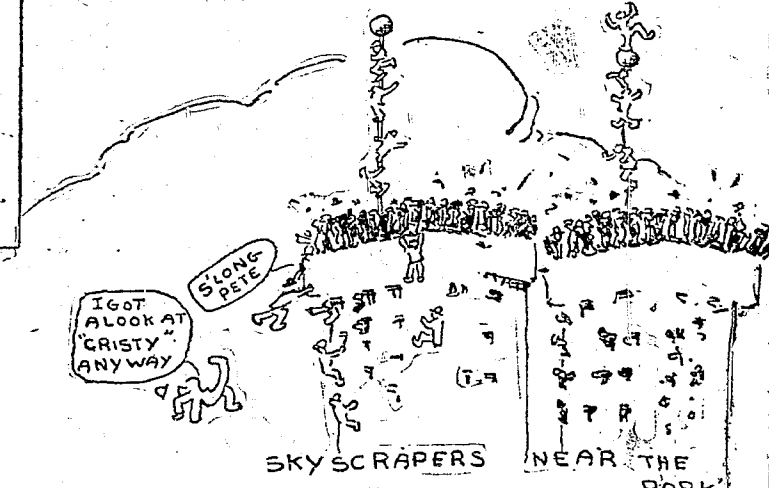

MORE TROUBLES FOR BAT. AUGUST, Maine, Oct. 20.—Batting Nelson met George Alger of Cambridge here last night and came off second best in a six-round bout. Alger showed victory keeping the Batter at arm's length more than half the time and landed four punches to every one that he received.

SNAILHAN STILL A ROUGH FIGHTER IN CLINCHES

STOCKTON, Oct. 20.—Before a crowd that packed the large quarters of the Hub City Athletic Club to the doors tonight, Billy Snailhan of San Francisco deliberately fouled out Molen in this city and lost the contest. Inside of twenty seconds both fell in a clinch and were deliberately fouled out. Molen in this city made a mistake in not driving Snailhan back a few seconds later when Molen was tripped. While counting was under way Snailhan stepped up and sent a wicked right uppercut to Molen's jaw, putting the local scrapper out. Jack Douglas of San Francisco has all the best of it in the ten-round go with Eddie Forbes of Oakland. Roy O'Brien cut in the first round when Billy Lind hit him.

LARNED WILL TRY TO BRING BACK BIG DAVIS TROPHY

After nine straight wins the Occidental Bar boys are open for engagements with any club claiming a baseball team, the Cave team preferred. CHICK WRIGHT WINS FROM BENNY SAYLOR

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—"Chick" Wright won the 18-2 ball-line billiard match with Ben Saylor at Wright's billiard theater by making a great stretch run last night in the concluding game, winning the match by the score of 750 to 551. It was a spectacular contest, marked by big runs and many dramatic shots. The high average made by both men in the three nights' play shows the class of billiards put up by Saylor 12, ante, Wright averaging 15 and Saylor 12.

Polo Prospects Brighten

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Polo prospects for the coming season have brightened considerably since the return of Francis J. Carolan from Europe. A number of enthusiasts are turning out on the Crossways field for practice several times each week. Among those who already have appeared in the saddle are F. J. Carolan, John Lawton, Eugene de Coulon, R. M. Tobin, Orville Pratt, Douglas Alexander and George Garritt.

DALTON AND REILLY ARE PRIMED FOR BOUT TONIGHT

Golden Gate Club Will Stage Interesting Card at Dreamland Tonight.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—The Golden Gate club will stage eight bouts tonight at Dreamland, starting at 8 p. m. and will be furnished by Kid Dalton, the Los Angeles lightweight, and Charlie Reilly. The boxers are reported to be in good shape. They expect to be evenly matched on past performances, as Dalton comes north with a fine record in the south, and Reilly is one of the best fighters in the west.

Rufe Williams and Kid George are to tangle in the special event. George has just returned to the city from Coalinga, where he whipped Brick Burgess in 13 rounds last Tuesday. A spate of comedy has been added to the program in the shape of a heavyweight bout between Ed Schorsch, a 450 pound giant and Charlie Miller, the 250 pound local pugilist. Dunkhorst is a veteran, having boxed Bob Fitzsimmons and other cracks in years gone by.

The remainder of the card includes the following: boxers: Rufe Turner vs. Billy Walters, Yulio Tanabe, the Japanese lightweight, vs. Kid Scholt, Leo Johnson vs. Billy Chappelle, and Dummy Thomas vs. Kid Harvey. Harry Foley will referee.

WEST OAKLAND CLUB SHOW.

The matchmaker of the West Oakland Athletic Club, Sol Levison, has completed the card for next Tuesday evening and the class of boxers signed up should give the fans plenty of action.

Jimmie Pitton has boxed before the different clubs around the bay and has always put up fast bouts. He boxed a ten-round draw with Johnny Frayne and Antonio La Grave, and is considered one of the best fighters in the area. Holmes boxed at the last Wheelmen's show and put up one of the best bouts of the evening. This go can be looked to as being a real hot one.

Billy Adkins boxed the first six-round bout at the Wheelmen's last show and gained many friends by his work on that occasion. O. Camp is one of the best boys in San Francisco and can be depended upon for a fast bout.

Petrosky and Holmes have each posted a $100 forfeit for appearance and which goes as a side bet. Both have gone into active training and feel confident of testing their mettle.

The bouts will be pulled off promptly and the fans will be able to reach home at a reasonable hour.

The first of the match with Thomas has caused them to prepare for a grueling battle and each one feels confident of victory.

CUTLER STATES THAT JACK JOHNSON IS SLOWING UP

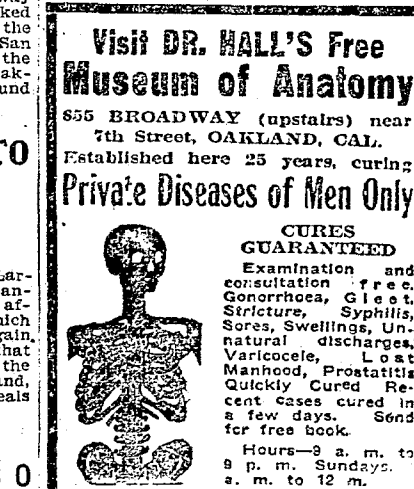

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Jack Johnson is going back at a slower rate than he has slowed down to such a degree that he has practically decided to quit boxing, and has canceled his trip to Australia.

This is the information imparted today by Marty Cutler, the champion's sparring partner, who has arrived from England. Unless Johnson can get some purses in New York for battles with whites, he will continue on his way to Australia.

"Johnson has been training hard in England," Cutler said, "but he has just naturally slowed up."

REDS TO HAVE NEW MANAGER.

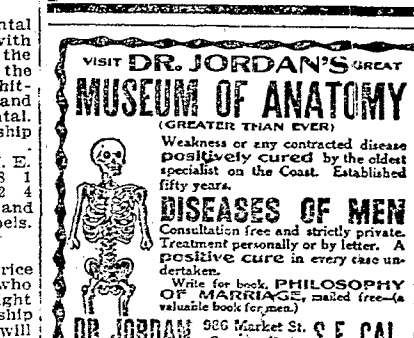

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—A word was received here at the Carter Hotel last night that President Herman of the Cincinnati National team had made the announcement that he had signed a manager for 1912 and that the next year was a "famous shortstop" but did not disclose his identity.

STUPENDOUS PRODUCTION TO BE SEEN AT ORPHEUM

Scene from "A Romance of the Underworld," coming to the Oakland Orpheum next week.

Over at the Oakland Orpheum they are making what seems like extraordinary preparations for the coming of Paul Armstrong's great play, "A Romance of the Underworld."

They call it the most "stupendous dramatic production in vaudeville." There are twenty-three actors in the cast and all of them are real people—not "supers." When one remembers that this one act costs the Orpheum Company $2000 per week and that there are seven other expensive vaudeville features on the program besides this, one wonders how it can be done and that there is any margin left on the right side of the ledger at the end of the week.

Nothing illustrates better than "A Romance of the Underworld" how the Orpheum people are striving for expensive novelties, and how perfectly willing they are to spend big sums for them. They engaged Paul Armstrong, the author of "Alias Jimmy Valentine," to write this vaudeville play and of course paid him a big sum for his services. Then they engaged twenty-three first-class actors to appear in the cast of "A Romance of the Underworld." After that they bought three sets of scenery which are used in the one-act play and finally the act was put on in New York as a single feature on a Broadway vaudeville program. It was a tremendous hit. The Orpheum Company promptly booked it for a tour of its circuit of theaters.

ONE WEEK ONLY.

That explains how "A Romance of the Underworld" will be at the Orpheum next Sunday. It comes for one week only. There are other attractions which will crowd it out at the end of the week, so that Oakland theatergoers who want to get a glimpse of Paul Armstrong's vaudeville playlet will have to hurry, and order their seats away in advance. "The Underground World" will be given a vivid portrayal in this Armstrong play.

strong play. There will be a sensational prison scene, rivaling in greatness the great prison scene from "Madame X." One will see the judge on his bench, the clerks, the bailiff of the court and then the motley lot of police guarded characters, who drifted into the clutches of the law as the result of their own weakness and folly.

STRONG TABLOID.

Those who have seen the play over at the Orpheum in San Francisco say that it makes a tremendously vivid impression and almost shocks one with its strength. Any one who knows anything of Paul Armstrong's ability as a dramatist knows that he could not write anything that denotes weakness. He is a writer of power and invariably successful. Two of his plays, "Alias Jimmy Valentine" and "The Deep Purple" were two of the biggest successes on Broadway last winter and are now touring the country with equal success. Those who wish to get a taste of Armstrong's power as a play writer will see that he has put just as much of his best stuff in his vaudeville play "A Romance of the Underworld."

The Orpheum management says that besides "A Romance of the Underworld" the program next Sunday will include five brand-new acts. Among these will be found, Maude Hill Macy & Company, in a great sketch, "The Magpie and the Jay." The Four Pioneers, comic merrymakers; The Nicholas Sisters, in songs and sayings behind burnt cork; Charles and Fanny Van, in a laughable comedy sketch and others.

THREE YOUTHS HELD FOR ROBBERY

Victim of Footpads Says the Arrested Men Are Those Who Robbed Him.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Five policemen rounded up and arrested three alleged hold-up men within fifteen minutes of the robbery of Daniel Gloyd of the Clarendon Hotel, 679 Pine street, and booked them at the city prison this morning.

Gloyd informed Patrolmen Manion and Casey that three footpads had attacked him at Kearny and Jackson streets at 3:30 a. m. and had taken his watch. Before they had time to search him further he ran. The two officers notified Police-men Clark, Welch and Dolan and the five entered three different doors in the saloon of 441 Kearny street, where they arrested three young men, all of whom are scarcely out of their teens. They were identified by Gloyd and gave the names of Frank Farrell, John L. Flynn and Eddie Marks. The watch taken from Gloyd was found in a closet adjoining the saloon.

SEBASTOPOL DENTIST ACCUSED INCENDIARY

SANTA ROSA, Oct. 20.—A man giving the name of C. A. Jackson, but who has been identified as Dr. C. W. Lawton, a practicing dentist of Sebastopol, was arrested here yesterday afternoon on a charge of incendiarism. Lawton is suspected of being the man who has started a number of fires in the tenderloin district here within the past few days.

Chief of Police John M. Boyes arrested Lawton on Second street, two blocks from the scene of the fire, and when taken into custody his first remark was: "Whatever I have done, I didn't know I was doing it." Lawton broke down late in the afternoon and cried like a child, admitting his identity and declaring he did not know what motives actuated him.

LABORERS WOULD STAY ON EMERGENCY SCALE

TUCSON, Oct. 20.—After being paid $2.50 gold a day for emergency work in clearing away the wreckage caused by the recent storm along the Southern Pacific of Mexico line in Sonora, hundreds of Mexican laborers are striking as a protest against the desire of the railroad to have them to return to their regular track work at the old scale of wages. Daily strikes of this nature have delayed the re-opening of the west coast line, but the officials stated today that despite all drawbacks they expected to have it ready for traffic again in ten days.

MURDEROUS ROBBERS FATALLY HURT AGENT

SKAGWAY, Alaska, Oct. 20.—Clayde Guptill, city agent of the Alaska Steamship Company, was assaulted and probably fatally injured in his office last night. It is supposed, by some one who intended to rob the office in which there was a large amount of money. It is supposed that the assailant, who evidently was familiar with the room, committed the assault in order to get this money, yet none of it was touched. Guptill slept in a room behind the offices. He is unconscious and physicians say he cannot recover.
